Bond Campaign Is Nearing Two Million Dollars

There's bad news for the Axis partners out of Adams county today and the news is just as bad for the pacifists. The pro-Nazi propagandists and those who "refuse" to help the war effort.

The news came in the form of a tuneless melody of bond-dollars, bond-dollars to the extent of $511,671.25 worth of Fifth War Bond purchases in this county during the past 24 hours.

It was a record-shattering event for this patriotic county which has never failed to answer "with a full measure of devotion" her country's call for support.

The tremendous outpouring of bond-buyers, purchases from $25 bonds up to those in the higher brackets, swelled the grand total thus far in the Fifth War Bond campaign to $1,834,506.25.

Slashes Quota
Yesterday's flood of bond-buying slashed into the quota of $2,797,000 for this, the first county in the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and left $962,493.75 worth of bonds to be sold to attain the goal.

"I wish that I could personally thank every Adams countian who is helping in any way to put this gigantic financial task across," said Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the County War Finance committee.

"It is the best piece of news we could get. It is like a smashing battlefront victory over the Axis. It is Adams county's answer to her sons and daughters in service and I want every individual in service to know what their folks back home are doing for them. It is an outstanding job for backing-up those in service."

Injured Soldiers Reported Improved

All of the soldiers injured when their car crashed into a head-wall 1 1/2 miles north of Heidelsburg on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg road Saturday were reported as "somewhat improved" at the Carlisle Barracks today.

Cpl. W. Yudiskas, Camp Detrick, Md., one of the most seriously injured of the five soldiers hurt in the accident, was reported as improved after having recovered consciousness on Tuesday. He had been unconscious from the time of the accident at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when he suffered concussion of the brain and a dislocated left hip.

Pvt. Frank Vankirk, Camp Pickett, Va., driver of the car, who was believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel is still somewhat delirious it was said. He suffered a compound fracture of the skull, fracture of the right foot and fracture of the right jaw in addition to extensive lacerations to the face.

Yudiskas and Vankirk were the most seriously injured of the five.

Bonneauville Test Run In 7 Minutes

Despite three detours made necessary by repair work to the Gettysburg-Bonneauville road, the Bonneauville fire company made the trip from their engine house to the Gettysburg engine house in seven minutes in a test run Tuesday night. After arriving here the Bonneauville and Gettysburg companies drove to Marsh Creek Heights where a drill was held. Refreshments were served at the local engine house after the drill.

Rites Held Today For E. Dale Heiges

Funeral services for E. Dale Heiges, 62, Biglerville, who died at his home Sunday morning after an illness of six months, were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, conducted by the Rev. H. W. Sternat. Interment in the Biglerville cemetery.

The pallbearers were Lt. Col. John S. Rice, Filmore Bream, Earl Lawver, Earl Trostle, Earl Garretson and B. G. Walter.

200 JAMAICANS READY TO PICK COUNTY FRUIT

The two hundred Jamaicans who will assist in cherry picking in Adams county during July and then will divide into bands of 100 to work in Franklin and Adams counties during the apple and peach seasons arrived Tuesday at the Old Forge CCC camp near Waynesboro where they will be stationed throughout the summer.

The 200 young men from the West Indies will remain at Old Forge until October 15, it was learned today and will receive a wage not less than the prevailing wages for agricultural work in the two counties. One dollar of each day's pay will be deducted from each laborer's pay to be sent to his family in Jamaica. Another $7.50 will be retained weekly for his board and lodging and the remainder will be given to the laborers in cash.

Help 20 Growers

Twenty fruit growers in the two counties have entered into an agreement with the Federal government to have the Jamaicans brought to the two counties under the War Food administration's program to provide labor for harvesting the nation's food crops. It was said today. The orchardists will provide transportation for the British subjects to and from the camp to the orchards.

The men arrived in the United States at an eastern port several days ago together with groups assigned to other sections. They were part of a contingent of 2,400 brought to this country. The 200 assigned to Old Forge arrived by train in Chambersburg about 10:20 o'clock Tuesday morning and were transported in seven buses to the Old Forge camp. They had been on the train from 9 o'clock Monday night while en route here. A field nurse of the WFA, Miss Leonora A. Hanau, accompanied the group.

They range from 18 to 40 years in age and the average age is 25 years. All speak English and all are literate.

The contingent is one of a number of groups of outside workers who will assist in harvesting and processing the county's expected huge fruit and vegetables production this year.

Turns To Court To Retrieve Furniture

Harry E. Jacobs, Hanover, today asked the Adams county courts to retrieve his furniture, possessions, and his Army discharge papers which, he claims, were "unlawfully" removed from his home in Hanover by his former housekeeper, Mrs. Margaret G. Shindelacker, Hanover, to a home in Conowingo township.

A statement of claim filed today by Jacobs' attorney, John P. Butt, Esq., in an action in replevin brought by Jacobs in February lists more than $1,000 worth of property which Jacobs asserts he would like to get back from his former housekeeper.

Judge Sheely Speaks At NCCW Meeting

Judge W. C. Sheely spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency" at the regular monthly meeting of the St. Ignatius unit of the National Council of Catholic Women Sunday in the St. Ignatius hall. Approximately 100 members attended.

Plans were made by members to attend the Harrisburg Diocesan convention of the NCCW in York today and Thursday.

August 12 was set for the annual picnic of St. Ignatius parish.

CAR HITS HAYWAGON

No one was injured when a car driven by Marian R. Sipe, 19, Hampton, hit the rear of a haywagon attached to a tractor driven by Richard Milhimes, New Oxford R. 1, on the New Chester-New Oxford road Monday evening. No charges were laid and damage was only $5. State Police investigated.

Republican Nominee

GOVERNOR THOMAS E. DEWEY, OF NEW YORK

Chicago Stadium, June 28 (AP)—A Republican ticket headed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York with Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, as his running-mate virtually was assured today as the party's 23rd convention moved swiftly toward formal nominations.

Governor Bricker's floor manager told reporters today he believed the Ohio Chief Executive would accept second place on the ticket with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania announced that he had received assurance of the Ohioan's willingness to accept second-place and from state after state came pledges of support for the Dewey-Bricker team.

Ed. Schorr, Ohio state Republican chairman, announced Bricker would be nominated for vice president by Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania.

A report spread that Gov. Bricker might move Governor Dewey's presidential nomination by acclamation after the Dewey nominating speech by Griswold.

Daniel Geiman Is Wounded In Big Invasion

The first local soldier to be reported wounded in the invasion of France is Pvt. Daniel Geiman, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Geiman, 155 South Washington street.

In a letter written June 18 to his parents, Private Geiman revealed that he is in a hospital in France after suffering a wound in his right foot. Private Geiman states that he is getting along well.

After entering the service January 1, 1942, Private Geiman was sent to Ft. McClellan, Ala., for his basic training. He had been in England since June, 1943.

Private Geiman observed his 20th birthday anniversary June 16. He is attached to an infantry outfit.

Allies Make Steady Gains Along Entire Italian Line

By NOLAND NORGARD
Rome, June 28 (AP)—San Vincenzo, only 32 miles below the big port of Livorno on the Italian west coast, was wrested from the Germans after a bitter house-to-house battle that lasted for several hours last night, and today the Fifth Army was reported slugging its way steadily forward.

San Vincenzo had been converted into a fortress by the Nazis, who had evacuated all civilians, then erected barricades and wire entanglements in front of the defenses.

Farther inland an American armored force continued to roll back stubborn enemy resistance and occupied the villages of Chiusdino and Travale. Chiusdino is only 17 miles southwest of Siena, key highway and communications center 31 miles below Florence.

Supported by Italian Partisans, an American Infantry force by-passed, then surrounded and captured the town of Sasseta, four miles northeast of San Vincenzo, despite its defense by elements of the German 17th SS Division, identified in that sector for the first time.

75 GIRLS HELP PICKERS JULY 5

Seventy-five girls from throughout Pennsylvania will be stationed at the Arendtsville school house for a three-week period starting July 5 to assist with cherry picking, it was announced today.

The girls will be under the supervision of Miss Eleanor Sharpe, of the Chambersburg high school faculty, and are being being recruited at the present time by the Emergency Farm Labor Office of Pennsylvania State college, through the local farm labor committee.

In addition to the 75 girls to be placed at Arendtsville 100 high school boys are expected to arrive at Biglerville on July 5 to establish a similar work camp in the grade school building there. The group at Biglerville will be under the supervision of William Whitley, Arendtsville high school principal. A camp for 47 high school girls has been in operation for several weeks at Cross Keys.

G-I MILITARY BALLOTS REACH 2,525 IN COUNTY

With all districts reported, the number of Adams county service men registered for the GI ballot reached 2,525 today.

The last two districts to report, Biglerville and Butler township, turned over the registration cards filled out in those districts this morning to the county civilian defense headquarters. Biglerville has 54 listed and Butler township 63.

It was expected that a few more cards will be added to the list before the registrations are turned over to the election officials of the various districts at a meeting at the court house Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Continue Work

A spokesman for the county CD headquarters said today that "in a number of districts the Civilian Defense canvassers are still continuing their work by going back to homes where they had previously been but had found no one at home on the first trips. The cards will boost the total slightly but it is not expected that the number will be very large."

With more than 2,500 soldiers, sailors and marines over 21 listed the Civilian Defense organization was believed to have practically covered the county completely in securing the names and addresses of the soldiers. About one-fifth of the men in service are under 21 and are not listed in the registration. Slightly more than 3,000 countians are believed to be in service at the present time.

PRISONERS MAY DO WORK OTHER THAN CANNING

The possibility that some war prisoners will be available for work other than in the canneries during slack periods in the canning season was indicated today by E. A. Crouse, manager of the local USES office.

The war prisoners camp here was secured by the Adams County Canners association. Mr. Crouse pointed out, and the canners will have first call on the services of the prisoners. However, he added, at such times as men are available, due to a slack period in the canneries, they are available for farm or orchard work if certain requirements can be met.

To secure the prisoners the prospective employer must file a certification of need and contracts with the local United States Employment Office after which the contracts and certification must be approved by the Third Service Command headquarters at Baltimore.

The prisoners must be guarded 24 hours a day and they are released only if there are sufficient guards to take care of them while they are employed. For that reason the work must be of such nature that a fairly large number of prisoners are needed at one place so that a number can be watched by one guard.

In such case the employer must provide transportation to and from the work for the prisoners and their towns of Gioiella and Porto Gioiella, four and a half miles southwest of Castiglione, on the west shore of the lake, fell to a tank force only after a six hour battle. Limited gains were made on the east side of the lake, where the enemy was holding Magione in force.

British Smash Through Nazi's Defense Lines

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 28 (AP)—British tank columns burst two miles through the Germans' Odon river line and engaged the enemy in the greatest armored battle of the liberation campaign four miles southwest of Caen today.

The clash blazing now in open country may decide the fate of a large part of the German 15th and 17th Armies. The enemy had grouped four armored divisions around Caen, his eastern Normandy stronghold, 120 miles from Paris.

Carving down southwest of Caen in an outflanking drive, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's steel fist tore a breach six miles wide in Nazi defenses, but the peninsular base road from Caen, poured over the Odon river, and battered two miles deeper to a point northeast of Esquay.

Threaten Principal Highways
This deep penetration sliced the road from Caen to Evrecy, and threatened the remaining German-held highways feeding into Caen from the south and southeast.

British armor can move swiftly across the open, rolling plains below Caen, and the Germans must block this thrust or face the threat of having large forces encircled. Swift, stabbing armored drives are an old story of Montgomery's desert veterans, and one of Britain's most famous tank generals is directing the operations.

Violent fighting also broke out a few miles north of Caen, with British troops pinning down German defense forces while tanks swept in from behind.

Allied planes hovered over the tank battle and lashed at Nazi reserves. Twenty-five German tanks were knocked out in Tuesday's fighting, and today's battle was on a much larger scale. Planes shot up 27 troop-carrying vehicles rushing about 800 German reinforcements to a weak spot, destroying 12 and damaging the others.

British infantrymen alone have advanced "more than 10,000 yards—some six miles—since Montgomery began his whirlwind offensive Monday. The punch won Tourville along the cross-peninsula road from Caen, then thrust on northeast of Esquay, about six miles southwest of Caen and midway between the Odon and Orne rivers.

Hold Strong Corridor
"The operation is very successful and we hold a very strong corridor across the Odon," a staff officer in the field told Associated Press War Correspondent Roger Greene.

(Vichy radio declared Montgomery was using 100,000 troops and two armored divisions in this all-out assault. The German high command acknowledged a penetration in one area in this sector, but said other blows were thwarted.)

Americans in Cherbourg captured a second German general, the deputy commander of Cherbourg, Major Gen. Robert Starke, yesterday when they stormed the arsenal in the port city, one of the last centers of Nazi resistance.

Supreme headquarters disclosed that the Allies had suffered 40,549 casualties in the first two weeks of the invasion. German losses in killed, wounded and captured for three weeks of battle were estimated at not less than 70,000.

Fly 3,000 Sorties
Clearing weather gave the Allies the opportunity to throw their air superiority into the furious battle raging on the eastern wing of the battlefield. Yesterday 3,000 sorties were flown.

On the Cherbourg peninsula Americans continued their mop-up job, capturing an arsenal which had been holding out, and attacking German-held Maupertus airfield to the east of Cherbourg and remnants of Germans trapped at Cap de la Hague.

Allied forces made progress in cleaning out enemy remnants hemmed in on the horns of the peninsula," said communique No. 45, issued at 11 a. m. today.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery held a position of great potential advantage at Tourville, about six miles southwest of Caen. A swift armored drive from there, such as characterized his African desert offensives, would cut off Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's communications into Caen and certainly trap a number of Nazi divisions around the city.

Foe Has 4 Tank Divisions
Rommel was known to have four tank divisions, two of them seasoned outfits in this area. The biggest tank battle of the campaign, similar to those which characterized the fighting in Libya and Tunisia, appeared in the offing.

The British advance was made in the hardest kind of fighting. The Germans used tanks extensively and (Please Turn to Page 7)

News Collected At Random

On the eve of the 168th anniversary of Independence Day and the third Fourth of July observance in World War II the Gettysburg Times will publish a commemorative Independence Day Tribute edition in honor of the more than three thousand Adams county men and women who are so nobly serving their country in this hour of peril.

The edition will exemplify the spirit of appreciation and thanks of families, merchants, manufacturers, fraternal, patriotic organizations and others whose members and employees are serving in the armed forces.

The edition will contain innumerable community and Lodge Honor Rolls headed by the master Honor Roll of Adams county. . . . a complete list of every name appearing on the Honor Roll in center square, together with the names of several hundred additional countians who are soon to be honored by having their names added to the rapidly swollen list.

It will be the first and official publication of the complete list of countians in service, in so far as the county wide committee has been able to muster.

Merchants, fraternal and patriotic organizations and industrial organizations have reserved space in the edition for the publication of their own Honor Roll.

Photographs of scores of Adams county men and women in service will be featured in the edition, together with Independence Day feature articles.

There will be a limited number of copies of the edition printed and it is suggested that those desiring extra copies should place their order now.

A complete edition will be addressed to each countian in the service.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. John E. Powell, Fifth street; Mrs. Roy Kuykendall, Gettysburg R. 4, and Mrs. Paul Arnsberger, Gardners R. 2, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. Gilbert Bly, Bendersville; James P. Reaver, Gettysburg; Brenda Lee McCracken, Biglerville; Junior Ralph Heller, Gardners; Roger Adams, Emmitsburg, and Maysie Sell, Fairfield.

British infantrymen alone have advanced more than 10,000 yards—some six miles—since Montgomery began his whirlwind offensive Monday. Hold Strong Corridor

"The operation is very successful and we hold a very strong corridor across the Odon," a staff officer in the field told Associated Press War Correspondent Roger Greene.

(Vichy radio declared Montgomery was using 100,000 troops and two armored divisions in this all-out assault. The German high command acknowledged a penetration in one area in this sector, but said other blows were thwarted.)

Americans in Cherbourg captured a second German general, the deputy commander of Cherbourg, Major Gen. Robert Stattler, yesterday when they stormed the arsenal in the port city, one of the last centers of Nazi resistance.

Supreme headquarters disclosed that the Allies had suffered 40,549 casualties in the first two weeks of the invasion. German losses in killed, wounded and captured for three weeks of battle were estimated at not less than 70,000.

Fly 3,000 Sorties

Clearing weather gave the Allies the opportunity to throw their air superiority into the furious battle raging on the eastern wing of the bridgehead. Yesterday 3,000 sorties were flown.

On the Cherbourg peninsula Americans continued their mop-up job, capturing an arsenal which had been holding out, and attacking German-held Maupertus airfield to the east of Cherbourg and remnants of Germans trapped at Cap de la Hague.

"Allied forces made progress in cleaning out enemy remnants hemmed in on the horns of the peninsula," said communique No. 45, issued at 11 a. m. today.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery held a position of great potential advantage at Tourville, about six miles southwest of Caen. A swift armored drive from there, such as characterized his African desert offensives, would cut all Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's communications into Caen and certainly trap a number of Nazi divisions around the city.

Foe Has 4 Tank Divisions

Rommel was known to have four tank divisions, two of them seasoned outfits in this area. The biggest tank battle of the campaign, similar to those which characterized the fighting in Libya and Tunisia, appeared in the offing.

The British advance was made in the hardest kind of fighting. The Germans used tanks extensively and

BRICKER MAY BE NAMED AS RUNNING-MATE

By PAUL MILLER

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—A Dewey-Bricker ticket seized the imagination of the Republican national convention today as it met for its climactic D-Day session.

There remained a distinct possibility, however, that a "dark horse" candidate might emerge as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's running mate, now that California's Gov. Earl Warren has bowed out of the picture.

Dewey's managers, sure their man will capture the presidential nomination, extended the peace pipe to their nearest rival and said they would be glad to support Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio for second place.

Warren Declines

Bricker, faced with probable the most difficult decision of his political career, had no immediate comment.

But when Governor Warren eliminated himself unequivocally from vice presidential consideration last night, Bricker said:

"Whatever happens I'll do everything in my power to carry the country this fall for the ticket that is chosen here."

Nevertheless his supporters continued to insist Bricker's name would be placed in nomination for the top spot, thus opening the way to other possibilities if the Ohioan decides on all or nothing.

An 18-place plane was waiting at Albany for Dewey's call, ready to speed him, his aides and newspapermen to the glare of Chicago stadium's burning Meltz lights after the convention definitely acted—possibly in late afternoon. This might put Dewey on the platform tonight.

The drive to draft Governor Warren for second place sagged after the big Californian, besieged from all sides, flatly said:

"I could not accept a nomination for a place on the national ticket if it were offered."

Adopt Platform

This set off mounting tension over the vice presidential question which completely dominated the convention's third day after a night session in which a platform was adopted without apparent dissent.

Former President Herbert Hoover was cheered to the rafters when he lambasted the New Deal, and Rep. Clare Boothe Luce told the delegates the Administration is "distorting our democracy into a dictatorial bumblebee."

Darkhorse vice presidential possibilities, as discussed among the delegates, included:

Rep. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, an early contender for vice president who was reported willing yesterday to withdraw in favor of Warren, but who commented after Warren spoke: "This changes the picture considerably."

Others Mentioned

Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, popular with fellow governors and well regarded generally in the party.

Gov. Simon S. Willis of Kentucky, a border state whose 22 electoral votes the Republican party could use very well indeed this year.

Eric Johnson, the one-time Spokane salesman and now president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Another possibility is Lt. Cmdr. Harold E. Stassen, former Governor of Minnesota. Stassen's supporters, like Bricker's, however, said they were out for the No. 1 spot and would accept nothing less.

In scathing language, Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Luce told the convention that President Roosevelt's foreign policies followed neither "the diplomacy of freedom" nor the path of peace.

Mr. Roosevelt's predecessor in the White House said the President appeared to be engaging in "power politics" and "personal power diplomacy."

It is apparent, Mr. Hoover said, that his successor is following the balance-of-power idea and that "the United States is to turn the balance between Britain and Russia."

Irish Nations

"If that be the case," he said, "you may be sure that we will sooner or later gain the unity of such of them."

The war is being fought for freedom, he asserted, and it will not be achieved here or abroad in the New Deal policies are continued.

With a wide open foreign plank by which to chart his campaign course on the postwar peace issue, Dewey is expected to enlarge on his April declaration to editors in New York for "a structure of peace based by adequate force to prevent future wars."

Largely because it was represented as having Dewey's textual approval, the plank won convention endorsement without the fight which 15 Republican governors had been talking up for several days.

Some of the governors made a plain they subsided only because they had faith that Dewey would be for effective international organization.

OBSERVER SAYS FINLAND TAKES ROAD TO RUIN

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Substituting for Dewitt MacKenzie

Finland has taken the road to utter ruin which she so narrowly escaped in 1939-40.

Some of us may regret it remembering her strides along the best lines of human progress between the wars, and with what brave principle she fought the winter war as the Russians, coldly practical, prepared their strategic defenses for 1941.

But Finland supported her pro-Nazi leaders, possibly helplessly but probably willingly, preferring the Germans to the Russians. For that decision, which only saved off this day when she has become another Italy, she must pay bitterly.

The United States, one of her longest-suffering friends, can tolerate her no longer. Finland drops to the rank of the Hitlerite Balkans.

Blames Marshal

Oddly enough, the man most responsible for Finland's position is a former Russian Army officer, Field Marshal Gustav Mannerheim, hailed from 1918 to 1941 as Finland's greatest patriot. He now stands as another Mussolini, wrecked by the roles of both father and midwife. He now ranks even lower than Hitler's other satellites. Der Fuehrer brought them into line with irresistible pressure. Mannerheim joined him with gusto.

Not that Mannerheim would have joined happily in a war on Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Britain or the United States. But he saw opportunity for revenge, for recapture of territory, and for venting of an old grudge against the Soviets.

And let their be no doubt as to Mannerheim's responsibility. A Swedish writer aptly said: "Finland is a republic but has both a president and a king. The king is called Mannerheim."

Fled Bolsheviks

A high-ranking officer in the Czar's army, Mannerheim, then 40, fled from the Bolsheviks in 1917. Returning home after 20 years, he found the Finns dreaming of freedom. He organized an army, invited German help in the form of General Von Der Goltz' Baltic Army, drove out the Russians and was dictator of the new state until, having fostered elections for a Republican government, he stepped out in 1919.

Mannerheim's hatred of Soviet Russia is not out of line with that of the Finnish people. That he should look on the Germans as Americans looked on the French after 1918 can be understood. That he should, however, gladly support a Nazi Germany is another matter. He descended from his place as Field Marshal Gustav Mannerheim the George Washington of Finland to officiate at her temporary, if not permanent, destruction.

Those installed were: Fern Myers, senior regent; Virginia Lauer, junior regent; Enola Evans, past senior regent; Essie Smith, guide; Viola C. Casey, assistant guide; Marian C. Casey, recorder; Erma Keefe, treasurer; Pauline Naugle, argus and Jennie Reggale, sentinel.

A covered dish luncheon was held following the meeting.

Weddings

Murtoff-Katz

Miss Ruth W. Katz, of Allentown, and Lt. (jg) Albert J. Murtoff, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Murtoff, Carlisle, were married last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. Luke's Lutheran church, Allentown, the culmination of a romance that started when the couple were students together at Gettysburg college.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, the Rev. Dr. William L. Katz, pastor of St. Luke's church.

The couple were graduated at Gettysburg college in 1942. The bride served on the staffs of the campus newspaper and the college yearbook and was a member of the women's debate team and of Delta Gamma Sorority. She has been teaching in the Central Junior high school, Allentown.

Lieutenant Murtoff has been on active duty in the Atlantic theatre for more than a year. He won his commission in December, 1942, on graduating from the Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School at Northwestern university. At college he was varsity player in football, basketball and baseball and a member of Phi Delta Theta. He will return to sea duty following a brief leave.

Miss Jean Miller, Dillsburg R. D., and Cpl. John R. Leer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Leer, York Springs R. D., were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, June 18, at 5 o'clock in the chapel of the Army Air Base at Coffeyville, Kansas. The single ring ceremony was performed by the chaplain, Capt. H. J. Brehrens.

Miss Etta Kauffman, aunt of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and Cpl. Ellis Bulmer, Me., was the best man.

The bride wore a blue street dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony the couple was rendered a dinner by Miss Kauffman. Since the wedding the couple has been residing in an apartment in Coffeyville.

Miss Kauffman has gone to Russell, Kans., to spend a short time with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Shaeffer.

GUAM AND ROTA AGAIN RAIDED BY AMERICANS

By J. B. KRUEGER

(Associated Press War Editor)
American planes have again raided Japanese-held Guam and Rota islands south of invaded Saipan, Tokyo radio said today.

The unconfirmed report said 60 to 100 American aircraft struck at Guam and that 60 hit Rota to the north Tuesday. These were the third raids reported on these islands in four days, suggesting that the American Navy was clearing the way for further expansion of its holdings in the Marianas group, 1,500 miles from Japan.

On Saipan U. S. Marines and Infantrymen at last report were meeting stiffer opposition from Japanese garrisons dug in along a mountainous, cave-lined front roughly halving the island. But the last report covered the situation as of two days ago, and Adm. Chester Nimitz' headquarters has been silent since Monday afternoon.

Coupled with the reported Guam-Rota raids was an air blow at Yap from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's southwest Pacific theater.

Third Raid

Yap, 250 miles northeast of Palau in the Carolines, was slugged with 35 tons of bombs, presumably to insure that Japanese air forces there are kept from interfering with the Saipan operations 700 miles to the north.

It was Yap's third raid in a week and 30 enemy planes rose to meet it. Eight were downed. The Americans lost a Liberator.

MacArthur's airmen bombed Palau and Woleai, wrecked a Jap freighter off Boeroe island west of New Guinea, damaged three other vessels in the East Indies, and attacked Manokwari, Noemfoor, Wewak and their old favorite, Rabaul.

The Japanese retaliated with a ten-ton raid on Blak Island's Mokmer airdrome, inflicting minor casualties.

The meager news from Asia pictured the Chinese suffering and inflicting heavy losses in defending Hengyang, keypoint on the Hankow-Canton railroad. The Japanese sent a column on a new encircling move designed, Chungking surmised, to cut the city off from the south.

Myitkyina was still under heavy attack by Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops and a supporting Chinese force cut the Burma road below Lungling, which the Chinese are trying to recapture. The Chinese who captured Mogating moved six miles northeast and took Namai.

Merchants' War Bond
Sales Total $23,775

The retail merchants' war bond sales last Friday totaled $23,775 it was announced today by Marcus Sherman, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The total was almost double that of a similar sales drive held during the Fourth War Loan Drive.

Mr. Sherman today expressed his appreciation to the cooperating merchants and public for making the drive so successful.

All receipts by local merchants last Friday were used to purchase war bonds for the Fifth War Bond campaign.

Merchants in the county did the same thing but no report has been received as to the final results.

FREE PRESS IS IN GOP PLANK

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—A free press with a minimum of wartime censorship and a new law regulating radio is advocated by the Republican party in its 1944 platform.

The plank adopted yesterday calls also for equal access to news for all news gatherers, a principle the platform said would be a "valuable contribution to future peace" if it could be extended world wide.

Text of the plank:

"In times like these, when whole peoples have found themselves shackled by governments which denied the truth, or worse, dealt in half-truths or withheld the facts from the public, it is imperative to the maintenance of a free America that the press and radio be free and that full and complete information be available to Americans. There must be no censorship except to the extent required by war necessity.

"We insist on a new radio law which will define, in clear and unmistakable language, the role of the Federal Communications commission.

"All channels of news must be kept open with equality of access to information at the source. If agreement can be achieved with foreign nations to establish the same principles, it will be a valuable contribution of future peace.

"Vital facts must not be withheld.

"We want no more Pearl Harbor reports."

The accident occurred at the intersection of the Fairfield-Zora road with the Emmitsburg-Waynesboro road four miles south of Fairfield. Shenk was said by police to have been driving east on the Emmitsburg road and attempted to turn into the Fairfield road in front of a car driven by John L. Zent, 18 Keymar, Maryland. Agnes Zent, 19, Keymar, suffered a laceration of the right knee and a bruised forehead in the collision. She was treated by Dr. Walter Kadie, Emmitsburg. Total damage was $450.

MAN, 32, HELD FOR COURT ON THEFT CHARGE

Curtis Weaver, 32, Hanover, was held for the action of York county court and was returned to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail on a charge of robbery after a hearing Monday night before Justice of the Peace Harry C. Nail, Hanover.

Weaver is alleged by police to have admitted taking upwards of $300 from E. A. Olinger, 64, Gettysburg R. D. 5, in a garage in Hanover last Saturday evening.

The defendant was taken into custody Saturday night by Detective Jesse Crabbs, while members of the Hanover police department conducted an investigation to learn details of the robbery and to identify the victim. The charge against Weaver was laid by Officer Donald Knott, of the Hanover police department.

Out on Parole

Testifying at Monday night's hearing, in addition to Detective Crabbs and Officer Knott, were Hanover Chief of Police Richard A. Jones, Miles A. Fasnacht and Franklin Riley, manager and clerk, respectively, at the J. C. Penney company store; Jacob Wildasin and Ambrose Young, Hanover, Sterling Bollinger, York; Mr. Olinger and Weaver.

In attendance at the hearing was Donald A. Bubb, Harrisburg, representing the State Parole board. Weaver is on parole from the Eastern penitentiary, police say. Mr. Bubb has filed a parole warrant for his case has been disposed of by the York county court.

At the hearing, Weaver testified that Olinger had handed him the money. Chief of Police Jones asserted that Weaver had confessed before him, Officer Wilbur Sandruck, Mr. Fasnacht and Mr. Riley, that after Olinger had shown him his roll several times the money was too much of a temptation and he took it. All witnesses testified that Weaver was the man they had seen with Olinger. Young disclosed that he followed Weaver in a car after he saw him fleeing from the alley.

Among those from the Gettysburg unit of the National Council of Catholic Women who were attending the NCCW diocesan convention at York today were Miss Mary Ramer, president; Miss Betty Rosensteel and Miss Bernadette Cool, chairmen of the youth committee; Mrs. Romeo Capozzi, scout leader; Miss Rose Marie Smith, first class scout; and Miss Marie Robinson, all of whom were present for the Youth section of the conference and Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, delegate to the convention from the local unit. Mrs. Ralph Menchey, president of the Queen of Peace Council of PCBL which is affiliated with the NCCW and Mrs. Rebecca Martin, also of the PCBL are planning to attend the NCCW sessions Thursday.

The Saturday Night Reading club will meet Saturday evening with Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer, Springs avenue.

OBSERVER SAYS FINLAND TAKES ROAD TO RUIN

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Substituting for Dewitt MacKenzie

Finland has taken the road to utter ruin which she so narrowly escaped in 1939-40.

Some of us may regret it remembering her strides along the best lines of human progress between the wars, and with what brave principle she fought the winter war as the Russians, coldly practical, prepared their strategic defenses for 1941.

But Finland supported her pro-Nazi leaders, possibly hopelessly but probably willingly, preferring the Germans to the Russians. For that decision, which only staved off that day when she has become another Italy, she must pay bitterly. The United States, one of her longest-suffering friends, can tolerate her no longer. Finland drops to the rank of the Hitlerite Balkans.

Blames Marshal

Oddly enough, the man most responsible for Finland's position is a former Russian Army officer, Field Marshal Gustav Mannerheim, hailed from 1918 to 1941 as Finland's greatest patriot. He now stands as another Mussolini, wrecked of the country at whose birth he played the roles of both father and midwife. He now ranks even lower than Hitler's other satellites. Der Fuehrer brought them into line with irresistible pressure. Mannerheim joined him with gusto.

Not that Mannerheim would have joined happily in a war on Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Britain or the United States. But he saw opportunity for revenge, for recapture of territory, and for venting of an old grudge against the Soviets.

And let their be no doubt as to Mannerheim's responsibility. A Swedish writer aptly said: "Finland is a republic but has both a president and a king. The king is called Mannerheim."

Fled Bolsheviks

A high-ranking officer in the Czar's army, Mannerheim, then 40, fled from the Bolsheviks in 1917. Returning home after 20 years, he found the Finns dreaming of freedom. He organized an army, invited German help in the form of General Von Der Goltz' Baltic Army, drove out the Russians and was dictator of the new state until, having fostered elections for a Republican government, he stepped out in 1919.

Mannerheim's hatred of Soviet Russia is not out of line with that of the Finnish people. That he should look on the Germans as Americans looked on the French after 1870 can be understood. That he should, however, gladly support a Nazi Germany is another matter. Has descended from his place as Field Marshal Gustav Mannerheim the George Washington of Finland to officiate at her temporary, if not permanent, destruction.

Women Of Moose Install Officers

An installation of officers was held by the Women of the Moose Tuesday evening at the Moose home on York street. Paul Miller, local lodge governor, conducted the installation assisted by Charles Evans.

Those installed were: Fern Myers, senior regent; Virginia Lauer, junior regent; Enola Evans, past senior regent; Bessie Smith, guide; Viola Caskey, assistant guide; Marian Cluck, recorder; Erma Keefe, treasurer; Pauline Naugle, argus and Jennie Reggeal, sentinel.

A covered dish luncheon was held following the meeting.

Weddings

Murtoff-Katz

Miss Ruth W. Katz, of Allentown, and Lt. (jg) Albert J. Murtoff, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Murtoff, Carlisle, were married last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. Luke's Lutheran church, Allentown, the culmination of a romance that started when the couple were students together at Gettysburg college.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, the Rev. Dr. William L. Katz, pastor of St. Luke's church.

The couple were graduated at Gettysburg college in 1942. The bride served on the staffs of the campus newspaper and the college yearbook and was a member of the women's debate team and of Delta Gamma Sorority. She has been teaching in the Central Junior high school, Allentown.

Lieutenant Murtoff has been on active duty in the Atlantic theatre for more than a year. He won his commission in December, 1942, on graduating from the Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School at Northwestern university. At college he was varsity player in football, basketball and baseball and a member of Phi Delta Theta. He will return to sea duty following a brief leave.

Miss Jean Miller, Dillsburg R. D., and Cpl. John R. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lee, York Springs R. D., were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, June 18, at 5 o'clock in the chapel of the Army Air Base at Coffeyville, Kansas. The single ring ceremony was performed by the chaplain, Capt. H. J. Brehrens.

Miss Etta Kauffman, aunt of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and Cpl. Ellis Bulmer, Me., was the best man.

The bride wore a blue street dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony the couple was tendered a dinner by Miss Kauffman. Since the wedding the couple has been residing in an apartment in Coffeyville.

Miss Kauffman has gone to Russell, Kans., to spend a short time with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Shaeffer.

Final Report On Tax Audit Asked

A final report by the borough auditors on the books of Harry H. Thomas, former tax collector, was asked this morning by the borough finance committee and representatives of Mr. Thomas' bonding company following a joint meeting at the offices of Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Bulleit.

S. Richard Eisenhart presented the preliminary report of the auditors after which the group asked for a complete report which will be ready, it was said in about two weeks. Following presentation of the report it will be verified and then brought before council, it was said.

War Prisoner Camp Completed

Gettysburg's War Prisoner camp was completed today with the U. S. Army unit guarding the prisoners moving to the newly established tent camp along the Emmitsburg road from temporary quarters at the high school building where they have been stationed since arrival here.

The German war prisoners, who are assisting in the fruit and vegetable canneries of the county, moved Tuesday from their temporary quarters at the armory to their tent village inside the stockade at the camp.

GUAM AND ROTA AGAIN RAIDED BY AMERICANS

By J. B. KRUEGER

(Associated Press War Editor)

American planes have again raided Japanese-held Guam and Rota islands south of invaded Saipan, Tokyo radio said today.

The unconfirmed report said 60 to 100 American aircraft struck at Guam and that 60 hit Rota to the north Tuesday. These were the third raids reported on these islands in four days, suggesting that the American Navy was clearing the way for further expansion of its holdings in the Marianas group, 1,500 miles from Japan.

On Saipan U. S. Marines and Infantrymen at last report were meeting stiffer opposition from Japanese garrisons dug in along a mountainous, cave-lined front roughly halving the island. But the last report covered the situation as of two days ago, and Adm. Chester Nimitz' headquarters has been silent since Monday afternoon.

Coupled with the reported Guam-Rota raids was an air blow at Yap from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's southwest Pacific theater.

Third Yap Raid

Yap, 250 miles northeast of Palau in the Carolines, was slugged with 35 tons of bombs, presumably to insure that Japanese air forces there are kept from interfering with the Saipan operations 700 miles to the north.

It was Yap's third raid in a week and 30 enemy planes rose to meet it. Eight were downed. The Americans lost a Liberator.

MacArthur's airmen bombed Palau and Woleai, wrecked a Jap freighter off Boeroe island west of New Guinea, damaged three other vessels in the East Indies, and attacked Manokwari, Noemfoor, Wewak and their old favorite, Rabaul.

The Japanese retaliated with a ten-ton raid on Blak Island's Mokmer airdrome, inflicting minor casualties.

The meager news from Asia pictured the Chinese suffering and inflicting heavy losses in defending Hengyang, keypoint on the Hankow-Canton railroad. The Japanese sent a column on a new encircling move designed, Chungking surmised, to cut the city off from the south.

Myitkya was still under heavy attack by Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops and a supporting Chinese force cut the Burma road below Lungling, which the Chinese are trying to recapture. The Chinese who captured Mogaung moved six miles northeast and took Namti.

Merchants' War Bond Sales Total $23,775

The retail merchants' war bond sales last Friday totaled $23,775 it was announced today by Mares Sherman, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The total was almost double that of a similar sales drive held during the Fourth War Loan Drive. Mr. Sherman today expressed his appreciation to the cooperating merchants and public for making the drive so successful.

All receipts by local merchants last Friday were used to purchase war bonds for the Fifth War Bond campaign.

Merchants in the county did the same thing but no report has been received as to the final results.

CODE VIOLATIONS CHARGE

A charge of driving too fast for conditions has been laid against Harvey M. McDannell, Ottomanna R. 2, by Borough Officer Clark R. Staley, before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. A ten day notice was sent.

Rubies were believed in ancient times to have the power to stop bleeding.

Accuse Motorist In Nearby Crash

Benjamin Wilbur Shenk, Dallas-town, will be charged before Justice of the Peace Ellis Stine, Fairfield R. 1, with making a left turn in the face of oncoming traffic as a result of an accident Tuesday afternoon at 3:25 o'clock, Pvt. George Ackerson, of the local state police, who investigated, said today.

The accident occurred at the intersection of the Fairfield-Zora road with the Emmitsburg-Waynesboro road four miles south of Fairfield. Shenk was said by police to have been driving east on the Emmitsburg road and attempted to turn into the Fairfield road in front of a car driven by John L. Zent, 18, Keymar, Maryland. Agnes Zent, 19, Keymar, suffered a laceration of the right knee and a bruised forehead in the collision. She was treated by Dr. Walter Kadle, Emmitsburg. Total damage was $450.

MAN, 32, HELD FOR COURT ON THEFT CHARGE

Curtis Weaver, 32, Hanover, was held for the action of York county court and was returned to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail on a charge of robbery after a hearing Monday night before Justice of the Peace Harry C. Nail, Hanover. Weaver is alleged by police to have admitted taking upwards of $430 from E. A. Olinger, 64, Gettysburg R. D. 5, in a garage in Hanover last Saturday evening.

The defendant was taken into custody Saturday night by Detective Jesse Crabbs, while members of the Hanover police department conducted an investigation to learn details of the robbery and to identify the victim. The charge against Weaver was laid by Officer Donald Knott, of the Hanover police department.

Out on Parole

Testifying at Monday night's hearing, in addition to Detective Crabbs and Officer Knott, were Hanover Chief of Police Richard A. Jones, Miles A. Fasnacht and Franklin Riley, manager and clerk, respectively, at the J. C. Penney company store; Jacob Wildasin and Ambrose Young, Hanover, Sterling Bollinger, York; Mr. Olinger and Weaver.

In attendance at the hearing was Donald A. Bubb, Harrisburg, representing the State Parole board. Weaver is on parole from the Eastern penitentiary, police say. Mr. Bubb has filed a parole warrant to be served on Weaver after his case has been disposed of by the York county court.

At the hearing, Weaver testified that Olinger had handed him the money. Chief of Police Jones asserted that Weaver had confessed before him. Officer Wilbur Sandruck, Mr. Fasnacht and Mr. Riley, that after Olinger had shown him his roll several times the money was too much of a temptation and he took it. All witnesses testified that Weaver was the man they had seen with Olinger. Young disclosed that he followed Weaver in a car after he saw him fleeing from the alley.

FREE PRESS IS IN GOP PLANK

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—A free press with a minimum of wartime censorship and a new law regulating radio is advocated by the Republican party in its 1944 platform.

The plank adopted yesterday calls also for equal access to news for all news gatherers, a principle the platform said would be a "valuable contribution to future peace" if it could be extended world wide.

Text of the plank:

"In times like these, when whole peoples have found themselves shackled by governments which denied the truth, or worse, dealt in half-truths or withheld the facts from the public, it is imperative to the maintenance of a free America that the press and radio be free and that full and complete information be available to Americans. There must be no censorship except to the extent required by war necessity.

"We insistently condemn any tendency to regard the press or the radio as instruments of the Administration and the use of government public agencies for partisan ends. We need a new radio law which will define, in clear and unmistakable language, the role of the Federal Communications commission.

"All channels of news must be kept open with equality of access to information at the source. If agreement can be achieved with foreign nations to establish the same principles, it will be a valuable contribution to future peace.

"Vital facts must not be withheld.

"We want no more Pearl Harbor reports."

TRIPLE AERIAL RAPS AIMED AT NAZI AIRPORTS

London, June 23 (AP)—A great Allied aerial offensive aimed at flattening every German operational airbase in France was resumed today with a triple attack by at least 150 American heavy bombers after the RAF had hurled 1,000 planes against two key rail centers in France and rocket installations along the channel coast during the night.

The Couvren, Athies and Juvin-court airfields—all in the vicinity of Laon—were blasted in clear weather this morning by Fortresses and Liberators.

In daylight this morning another formation of RAF Halifaxes with fighter escort bombed flying-bomb emplacements in France.

The third force of British night raiders subjected the Nazi rocket bomb installations to another heavy assault.

Light bombers also were out during the night, bombing an enemy headquarters south of the Normandy battle area and a military telephone exchange on the Brest peninsula.

Four bombers were missing from the night operations from Britain and at least six enemy fighters were downed. Twenty-three German planes were destroyed in yesterday's widespread operations, ranging from Cherbourg to Paris, and 13 Allied bombers and eight fighters were reported missing.

The Germans continued their attacks on southern England with winged bombs during the night but on a lesser scale than on Monday night.

On one of the most intensive low-level bombing and strafing attacks since the invasion, pilots of the U. S. Eighth Fighter Command late yesterday made one sweep across France, netting these results:

Sixteen rail yards bombed or shot up; and 66 locomotives, 371 freight cars, a roundhouse, five ammunition cars, two troop trains, and one ammunition train, all destroyed.

Allied headquarters in Italy announced today that yesterday's heavy bomber attacks against objectives in the Budapest area and the railroad yard at Brod, in Yugoslavia, as well as operations in Italy cost six Allied aircraft. Thirty-eight enemy planes were destroyed.

DEWEY READY TO TAKE GOP NOMINATION

Chicago, June 23 (AP)—Governor Dwight Griswold of Nebraska formally placed Thomas E. Dewey in nomination for the presidency of the United States at the Republican national convention today, declaring the New Yorker will win in November and become the man of the peacetime American future.

"This man will win," said Griswold, "because he is faced in the direction the American people want to go."

Extolling the 42-year-old Dewey, he said the Republicans are offering the nation "youth instead of decadence, vigor instead of complacency, integrity instead of double-dealing, seriousness of purpose instead of flippancy."

Anticipating a Democratic slogan "not to change horses in the middle of the stream," Griswold observed: "26 GOP Governors."

"There are now 26 Republican wartime governors. In these states, the people did not change horses; they changed vehicles."

For times like these, he said, "and in a stream like this, transportation by horse is not good enough."

When the American people want to go places, Griswold declared, "trust them to get off the horse and take a speedboat."

"In naming this man, we are not merely choosing a candidate—we are choosing a nominee who cannot fail to win. The direction of the war is already set and it will not be changed by the coming election. But the election will change our direction here at home. We are here to name as president a man whose character and record give assurance that this nation will now go forward to a greater future."

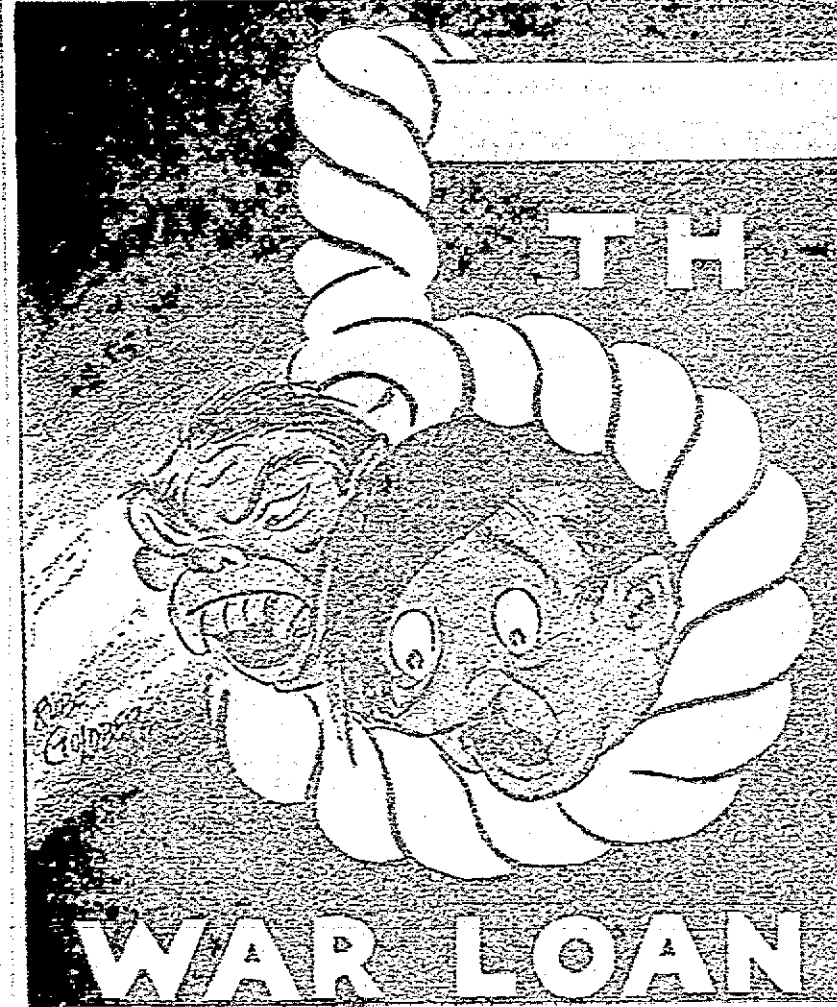

Without naming President Roosevelt, Griswold said "the past will have its spokesman in this campaign" but the Republicans propose in Dewey to have "the spokesman of the future."

He praised Dewey's record as a racket-busting prosecutor who "broke the alliance between corrupt politics and crime" and declared: "What a house cleaning this nation needs and what a man to do the job!"

GOP Chairman Is "Moot" Question

Chicago, June 23 (AP)—The pivotal question of who will be the "front man" for the Republicans in the 1944 presidential campaign came up today.

Nobody had much doubt that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York would become the presidential nominee. But the choice of Dewey's official campaign boss, formally known as chairman of the Republican National Committee, ran into almost as many complications as that involving the selection of a vice presidential candidate.

Dewey backers were highly unenthusiastic about retaining the present chairman, Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa.

The circumstances are that J. Russel Sprague, New York national committeeman and Dewey bandwagon driver, has a home state job he is reluctant to leave.

Herbert Brownell, Jr., who managed Dewey's governorship campaign in 1942, might be the man. But he is inclined to shun the trappings of national office.

VETERAN MAKES List Casualties In Burma Campaign

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, June 23 (AP)—The Allies lost 6,600 men killed or missing and 12,000 wounded in the Burma-India campaign from Jan. 1 to May 31, it was estimated officially today.

The Japanese in the same period lost 21,700 dead, and probably 20,000 wounded, headquarters said. These figures do not include losses suffered by Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese-American forces.

Japs Surrounding City Of Hengyang

Chungking, June 23 (AP)—The high command indicated tonight that Japanese forces have surrounded Hengyang, vital railway junction in Hunan province. Loss of this city would be the greatest blow to China since the fall of Canton and Hankow in October, 1938.

"Severe fighting for the possession of Hengyang is now in progress on all sides of the city," said a communiqué, adding "the city, however, is still in our hands."

With the fall of Hengyang the way would be open for a Japanese advance on Kuangtung, or on Kewilin, provisional capital of Kwangsi, from which most foreign agencies have already withdrawn or are now withdrawing.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Noise Greeted News: At 10:55 this morning The Times received word from The Associated Press that the treaty of peace had been signed at Versailles by the Germans.

The news gradually spread about town and a few minutes after one o'clock the college and church bells commenced to ring and the factory whistles to blow. It took exactly fifty-five minutes for the news to be flashed here from the French city.

The noise here was the greatest heard since the armistice was signed almost eight months ago.

Andrew—Frederick: A pretty June wedding was solemnized at the Ardentville Reformed church parsonage Thursday evening at six o'clock when Lloyd E. Andrew, of McKnightstown, and Miss Lella Frederick, Duffield, were united in marriage by the Rev. T. C. Hesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew will reside in McKnightstown, where the bridegroom is employed by his father.

Guise—Group: Miss Elda J. Group and Willis J. Guise, both of near Gardners, were married on Saturday evening at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paxton, of near Goodyear.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. W. Frey in the presence of only a few friends.

Property Sold: William McSherry, Esq., has sold the Fannie Gowen property on West High street to Vincent Redding. Possession July 1st.

Kump—Brady: William E. Kump, of Cashtown, and Miss Mary Grace Brady, of New Oxford, were married in St. Ignatius church, Buchanan Valley, by the Rev. W. W. Whalen Wednesday morning.

Miss Rosalie Cole played the wedding march.

Fairfield Boys Are Welcomed: The lawn of Fairfield Reformed church was the scene of a pretty informal reception to soldier boys of that vicinity on Tuesday evening when the residents of the eastern end of the town gathered there to serve luncheon and hear speeches from the returned Army men.

Discharged soldiers who were present were Earl Hartzell, Roy Musselman, Claire Gowers, Earl Welkert, Frank Cluck, Henry Landis, Robert Johnson, Carroll McClell, Russel McClell, Clarence Bigham, Paul Musselman and Charles Cool.

Drum—Hickok: Chief Pharmacist's Mate Charles Drum, of the United States Naval Hospital at Washington, was married on Tuesday to Miss Dorothy Hickok, teacher of biology in the Wilkes-Barre high school.

Suffrage Passed by Legislature: (By Associated Press) Harrisburg, June 24—Pennsylvania today became the seventh state to ratify the Women's Suffrage Amendment.

The House of Representatives adopted the resolution by a vote of 153-44. The Senate adopted it last week 32-6.

The hall of the House was the scene of a remarkable demonstration when the vote was announced. Hundreds of women were present in the gallery.

Earle Plank Weds Danbury Girl: John Earle Plank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory H. Plank, of near Gettysburg, and Miss June Fanton, of Danbury, Connecticut, were married Wednesday at twelve o'clock in the St. James Episcopal church of Danbury. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. C. Coburn.

Mr. Plank, a civil engineer, is now employed in Pennsylvania as a highway inspector of engineers.

Daniels Enjoys Brief Stay Here: Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the United States Navy, left Gettysburg for Washington at 5 o'clock Monday evening after spending two and a half hours here with friends from Carlisle. After dinner at the Eagle Hotel, Postmaster Charles S. Drum accompanied the visitors on a trip over the battlefield.

Personal: Miss Anna Bream, of East Middle street, has gone to Harrisburg to spend the week with her cousin, Miss Mildred Hartzell.

John H. Bushman, father of Francis X. Bushman, and his sister, Mrs. Ruth Brennan, of Baltimore, are visiting at the residence of Samuel Bushman.

Miss Mabel Grenoble has returned home after visiting at the cottage of Mrs. John A. Schelling along Lake Erie.

Mrs. R. Warren Mottern, of Glendale, California, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edward A. Weaver, of West High street.

Joseph Smith, South Washington street, has returned from overseas and been sent to Camp Dix, New Jersey.

Meader Williams, who spent eighteen months in central France with the 333rd Motor Repair outfit, arrived at his home in Gettysburg on Friday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Rice, Biglerville, on Sunday.

24,162 YANKEE CASUALTIES IN FIRST 2 WEEKS

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 28 (AP)—The Supreme Command announced today that the first two weeks of the European invasion cost the Allies 40,543 casualties, including 24,162 Americans killed, wounded and missing—figures that still do not include last week's losses in the Cherbourg assault or the start of the present British offensive in the Caen area.

Of the casualty total for the period from June 6 to June 20, inclusive, 5,287 were killed of which 3,082 were Americans, 1,842 British and 383 Canadians.

Against these Allied losses German casualties in Normandy through the fall of Cherbourg have been estimated by supreme headquarters at not less than 70,000 men.

A large percentage of the American casualties came in the first two bloody days of fighting on the beaches when elements of the First and 29th Divisions ran head-on into a German division practicing invasion exercises along the landing coast. The British and Canadians were able to land with less opposition.

Allied Casualties

The complete Allied figures for the two-week period:

United States—3,082 killed, 13,121 wounded, and 7,559 missing, a total of 24,162.

British—1,842 killed, 8,599 wounded, and 3,131 missing, a total of 13,572.

Canadian—383 killed, 1,359 wounded, and 1,093 missing, a total of 2,835.

Against these casualties are more than 32,000 German prisoners already in the Allied bag and many hundreds more still uncounted, as well as many dead.

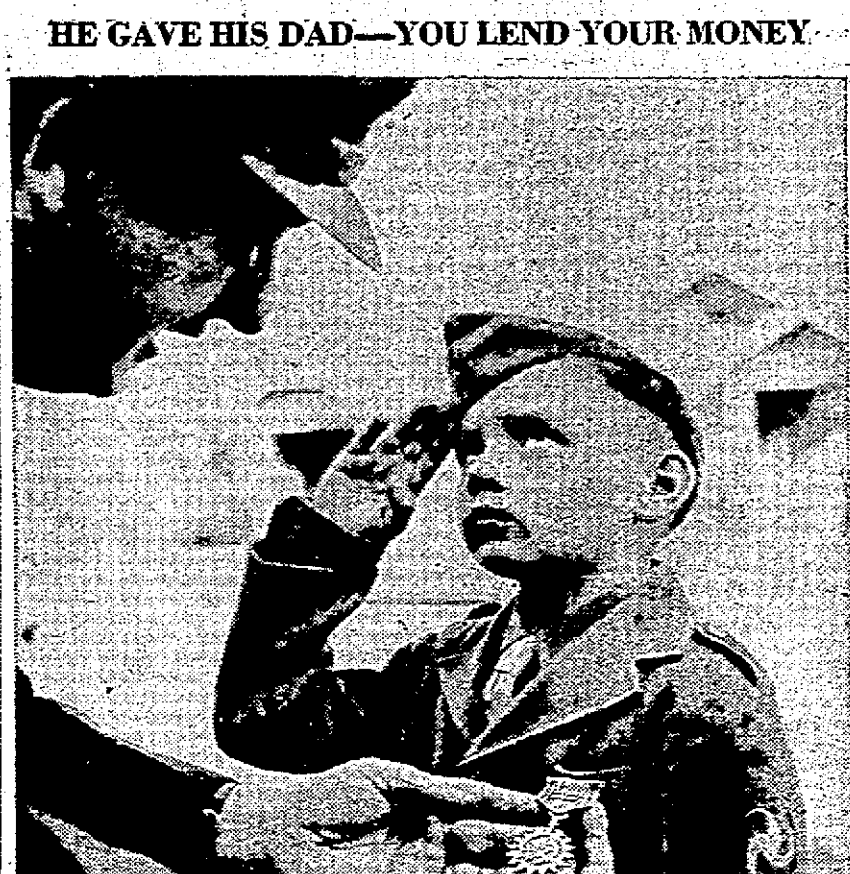

The casualties showed remarkable uniformity as to the number killed out of the total casualties. The per cent of fatal casualties of the total was 13 per cent. The per cent of American killed was 12.7, the British 13.5 and Canadian 12.9.

75,000 Greet Marine Hero At McKeesport

McKeesport, Pa., June 28 (AP)—Townpeople of Marine Lt. Mitchell Paige, Allegheny county's first World War II congressional medal of honor winner, will heap further tribute on the Guadalcanal hero at a banquet in his honor tonight.

The modest young officer got the biggest ovation ever accorded a war hero here when 75,000 persons lined the streets last night to view a three-mile parade in which nearly 5,000 marched.

"The crowd knows me," Paige naively told friends who rode with him in a car at the head of the parade, adding, "now I know I should have stayed out in the boon docks."

Willkie Is Mum On GOP Platform

New York, June 28 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie remained mum today on whether he would abide by the post-war foreign policy plank of the Republican platform.

Told Senator Warren Austin (R-Vt.) had expressed the opinion that the 1940 presidential candidate would "lend strong support" to the plank, Willkie said last night:

"In the language of Priscilla, speak for yourself, Warren."

He declined to elaborate on the paraphrase from Longfellow's "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

LABOR SPLITS ON GOP PLANK

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—The Republican labor plank, a slashing indictment of the New Deal, basked in praise of a United Mine Workers spokesman today but appeared unsatisfactory to the AFL and presumably to the CIO which is pro-Roosevelt.

K. C. Adams, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal and personal emissary of John L. Lewis before the labor subcommittee, called the plank "eminently satisfactory."

AFL President William Green, who presented his organization's proposals to the same subcommittee a few days ago, found the plank "disappointing" and said the CIO "has missed a great opportunity."

The plank accused the New Deal of "perversion" of the Wagner act to "destroy collective bargaining seeking to build up a totalitarian labor front and 'political trickery.'"

The Labor Department has disintegrated as a result, the plank said. There was praise for all workers for a "magnificent productive" effort but the language did not include the term "organized labor." It pledged fair administration of laws designed for labor's welfare and a secretary of labor who is "representative of labor."

SOLDIER SILENCE
"Oh, all I know of poetry and fancy speech and song
Is they may cheer you up a bit when things are going wrong.
Fine speeches are for peace time; for when the fighting starts
The heroes are the fellows who possess the stoutest hearts."

"I'm just a private, home once more, a ribbon on my chest,
And soldiers on the fighting line by speeches aren't impressed.
They've been with comrades under fire, land, ocean and the sky
And they have learned the bitterness of seeing comrades die."

"To 'stay-at-homes' all medals are a sign of glorious pluck,
But those who wear them smile, and say they're just a sign of luck.
A thousand others would have done the self-same deeds, they swear,
But luck was very kind, and we just happened to be there."

These fellows who have shared a charge against some fire-swept beach
Have lived to learn the difference 'twixt dead and fancy speech.
Yet, freedom is because of them, and silent though they stay,
Their deeds will still be eloquent a thousand years away."

State Delegates Wanted Gov. Warren

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—Pennsylvania's delegates to the Republican convention marked time today on the question of a nominee for the vice presidency.

The delegation awaited some indication of whom Governor Thomas E. Dewey might favor.

Dewey and the Pennsylvanians had wanted Governor Earl Warren of California, and Mr. Harvey Taylor, Pennsylvania state chairman, was attempting to notify Warren of a Pennsylvania "draft-Warren" movement when the Californian finally withdrew last night.

A Pennsylvania caucus earlier last night had chosen Taylor and Mrs. Marion Margery Scranton, national committee woman, to tell Warren he was endorsed. They were instructed not to take no for an answer.

The caucus also chose former Congressman Harry A. Estep, Allegheny county, as Pennsylvania's representative on the committee which will formally notify the presidential nominee of his nomination. Henrietta Wickey Beck, Dauphin county, was named to a similar committee on the vice presidency.

U.S. NEAR BREAK WITH FINLAND

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, June 28 (AP)—American relations with Finland were at the breaking point again today. Some officials predicted the final breach between this country and its long-time Scandinavian friend would be made in a matter of hours.

The Finnish government's announcement last night that it had reached a "perfect understanding" with Nazi Germany and that Germany had promised the Finns all the armed help they would need in their fight against Russia, was described by advocates of a break as "the last straw."

At the State Department it was said the announcement ended all hope of getting a Russo-Finnish peace on any basis short of Finland's complete defeat.

Finnish policy moved to the fore again just as diplomatic officials became reasonably certain of another development in the rapidly shifting European political picture—that General Charles de Gaulle now is almost certain to visit President Roosevelt here the first week in July.

Mr. Roosevelt said at his news conference yesterday that De Gaulle had asked whether the period July 5-9 would be agreeable to the President and he is being told that it is entirely satisfactory. Diplomatic officials doubted that De Gaulle would have asked for a specific time if he was not definitely determined to come over.

In the case of Finland the final decision would have to be made by Mr. Roosevelt.

All mankind, according to Prof. A. C. Haddon, Cambridge University ethnologist, can be divided into three kinds: woolly hair, wavy hair, straight hair.

EX-LABORER TO HEAD READING

Philadelphia, June 28 (AP)—Reverend W. Brown, 60, who began a railroad career as a laborer nearly 43 years ago, becomes president of the Reading company July 1.

Brown, who succeeds E. W. Scheer, will resign as president of the Lehigh Valley railroad to accept the post.

His election was announced late yesterday after the Reading company's board of directors accepted Scheer's resignation "with great reluctance."

A Reading company statement said Scheer, who had served as president since 1935, "has for some time desired to retire to his home in Maryland but waited until the progress of the war indicated that victory was in sight."

Brown has been president of the Lehigh Valley since 1941. A native of Carlyle, Illinois, he started work on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad's Illinois division, and was the Reading company's vice-president in charge of operation and maintenance until he went with the Lehigh Valley.

He served as chairman of committees representing eastern railroads in negotiations with railroad labor organizations and now is chairman of the committee on public relations of the eastern railroad presidents' conference.

Predict Good Sport For Bass Fishermen

Harrisburg, June 28 (AP)—Plenty of fish and probably good stream conditions will greet Pennsylvania anglers when bass season opens July 1. Fish Commissioner Charles A. French predicts.

Some 600,000 new bass were stocked in state streams during the year in addition to those left there by a decrease in fishing last year due to war conditions, French said.

Fishing regulations for inland waters from July 1 to Nov. 30:

Bass—Small and large mouth, not less than nine inches, daily limit six.

Pike perch or wall-eyed pike, not less than 12 inches, daily limit six.

Pickering—Not less than 12 inches, daily limit six.

Muskelunge—not less than 22 inches, daily limit two.

Helium gas was first observed on the sun.

ALWAYS SERENE
E. V. Lucas, in one of his sprightly essays, tells of the courage, the cheerfulness and the unusual philosophy of humble workers. "He tells of a flower woman whom he questioned. 'Is life worth living,' he asked, 'when it's cold and wet like this?' And her answer: 'Of course. Aren't there the nights?'"

There was the example of the blind man "at the little door of the Temple just below the Essex-Street archway." Ever since he could remember London, this blind man was there selling his matches—no matter what the weather—always smiling and always serene.

I am sure that there is a valuable lesson for us all in the example of those who do the humble tasks of life, often under the most trying circumstances but always so brave and cheerful about it.

It is amazing how much punishment the human body can take, but with a well-controlled mind—always serene—at the helm, this body of ours can take about every blow and meet every emergency that the world is apt to give it.

Everyone does his best, and works best, when the mind is undisturbed and serene. Read it, or trouble it, and it becomes confused. It loses its bearings. The serene mind keeps an even keel!

The seasons melt, one into the other. The years are but links in the expanse of Time. They come and go into lengthening shadows under a serene sky that is forever blue. And under a night that is forever dotted with stars, Nature is saturated with serenity.

There is recorded in Matthew, of the New Testament, the story of a storm on the Sea of Tiberias, with Jesus and some of his disciples. Jesus was taking a bit of sleep. Alarmed, the disciples awoke him and cried that he save them. "Whereupon he arose, rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, 'Peace, be still!'" And there was calm.

Nothing contributes more to a serene spirit than does prayer. Especially right now when the soul of civilization is being tried in the fire. Gethsemane is being felt in every home and in every heart.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Self-Companionship."

Be proud

Be proud

The world went mad... Hate, hunger and misery darkened the sun. Children walked the streets of Europe... Sleeping on doorsteps, searching for crumbs.

Then out of the New World came a new hope... To join the nations at war for right. Came a young giant called America... Big as the prairies, big as the hills. Free and angry and unafraid.

He rolled up his sleeves; he spit on his hands... And then he out-produced the world. In the awful but needful weapons of war. The wrath and the might of his people grew... On land... at sea... in the boundless air.

Now he is marching on Europe... Side by side with staunch allies, Now he is at death grips With the cruellest foe man ever faced. Now he needs every ounce of his strength...

And because YOU are his strength Now you can help as never before... By doing YOUR part... by digging deep... By buying more bonds than ever before... Buy bonds and be mighty, America... Buy bonds and be proud!

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Noise Greet News: At 10:55 this morning The Times received word from The Associated Press that the treaty of peace had been signed at Versailles by the Germans.

The news gradually spread about town and a few minutes after one o'clock the college and church bells commenced to ring and the factory whistles to blow. It took exactly fifty-five minutes for the news to be flashed here from the French city.

The noise here was the greatest heard since the armistice was signed almost eight months ago.

Andrew—Frederick: A pretty June wedding was solemnized at the Ardenville Reformed church parsonage Thursday evening at six o'clock when Lloyd E. Andrew, of McKnightstown, and Miss Lella Frederick, Duffield, were united in marriage by the Rev. T. C. Hesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew will reside in McKnightstown, where the bridegroom is employed by his father.

Guise—Group: Miss Elda J. Group and Willis J. Guise, both of near Gardners, were married on Saturday evening at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paxton, of near Goodyear.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. W. Frey in the presence of only a few friends.

Property Sold: William McSherry, Esq., has sold the Fannie Gowen property on West High street to Vincent Redding. Possession July 1st.

AUCTION BAT AT WAR BOND RALLY

Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—An old cracked and battered baseball bat, once the prized possession of a Sharon youth and later a boyhood treasure of a lad who lost his life during the invasion of Normandy, will be auctioned at a war bond rally during the Pittsburgh-New York war benefit baseball game tonight.

Timothy Kalagher of Sharon presented the old bat to the Pittsburgh sports war bond committee yesterday and told this story:

"I was mascot for a Sharon team in 1908 when we played Pittsburgh in an exhibition. Honus Wagner cracked the bat when he got a hit, and he gave it to me.

"I used it when I was a boy. Later, I gave it to my son, Timothy, Jr. He played with it until he entered the service.

"Last week I was notified he had been killed in Normandy.

"If this bat will stimulate the sale of bonds at your benefit game, you are welcome to it."

Pitted and battered, the bat almost tells a story in itself—of a small boy hitting rocks, or whatever was handy, in lieu of a baseball, during the 36 years the two Timothys had it.

75,000 Greet Marine Hero At McKeesport

McKeesport, Pa., June 28 (AP)—Townpeople of Marine Lt. Mitchell Paige, Allegheny county's first World War II congressional medal of honor winner, will heap further tribute on the Guadalcanal hero at a banquet in his honor tonight.

HOOVER RAPS FDR'S REGIME

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—Herbert Hoover was back in the political lists at 69 today after delivering the most scathing denunciation of the Democratic administration yet heard at the Republican national convention.

In a "fight until I die" speech, the only living former president told a cheering crowd of partisans last night that only by an upsetting of the Roosevelt administration "will our returning soldiers find freedom preserved at home."

The New Deal, Hoover said, "forged shackles for the liberties of our people."

Observing that nationalism is rising, he said "ideas of world super-government, no matter how idealistic, are already dead from these cold blasts of realism. Peace must be based upon cooperation between independent sovereign nations."

But it is obvious, he said, that there must be "some sort of world organization to preserve peace."

The general assembly of this organization, according to his own ideas, should be split into three divisions—one each for Europe, Asia and for the western hemisphere.

U.S. NEAR BREAK WITH FINLAND

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, June 28 (AP)—American relations with Finland were at the breaking point again today. Some officials predicted the final breach between this country and its long-time Scandinavian friend would be made in a matter of hours.

The Finnish government's announcement last night that it had reached a "perfect understanding" with Nazi Germany and that Germany had promised the Finns all the armed help they would need in their fight against Russia, was described by advocates of a break as "the last straw."

At the State Department it was said the announcement ended all hope of getting a Russo-Finnish peace on any basis short of Finland's complete defeat.

Finnish policy moved to the fore again just as diplomatic officials became reasonably certain of another development in the rapidly shifting European political picture—that General Charles de Gaulle now is almost certain to visit President Roosevelt here the first week in July.

Mr. Roosevelt said at his news conference yesterday that De Gaulle had asked whether the period July 5-9 would be agreeable to the President and he is being told that it is entirely satisfactory. Diplomatic officials doubted that De Gaulle would have asked for a specific time if he was not definitely determined to come over.

In the case of Finland the final decision would have to be made by Mr. Roosevelt.

All mankind, according to Prof. A. C. Haddon, Cambridge University ethnologist, can be divided into three kinds: woolly hair, wavy hair, straight hair.

Willkie Is Mum On GOP Platform

New York, June 28 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie remained mum today on whether he would abide by the post-war foreign policy plank of the Republican platform.

Told Senator Warren Austin (R-Vt.) had expressed the opinion the 1940 presidential candidate would "lend strong support" to the plank, Willkie said last night:

"In the language of Priscilla, speak for yourself, Warren."

He declined to elaborate on the paraphrase from Longfellow's "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

EX-LABORER TO HEAD READING

Philadelphia, June 28 (AP)—Revelle W. Brown, 60, who began a railroad career as a laborer nearly 43 years ago, becomes president of the Reading company July 1.

Brown, who succeeds E. W. Scheer will resign as president of the Lehigh Valley railroad to accept the post.

His election was announced late yesterday after the Reading company's board of directors accepted Scheer's resignation "with great reluctance."

A Reading company statement said Scheer, who had served as president since 1935, "has for some time desired to retire to his home in Maryland but waited until the progress of the war indicated that victory was in sight."

Brown has been president of the Lehigh Valley since 1941. A native of Carlyle, Illinois, he started work on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad's Illinois division, and was the Reading company's vice-president in charge of operation and maintenance until he went with the Lehigh Valley.

He served as chairman of committees representing eastern railroads in negotiations with railroad labor organizations and now is chairman of the committee on public relations of the eastern railroad presidents conference.

SWIMMING VICTIM

Irwin, Pa., June 28 (AP)—Stephen M. Todd, 19, a Jeannette glass worker, drowned last night while swimming in the Baldock Country club reservoir near here.

LABOR SPLITS ON GOP PLANK

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—The Republican labor plank, a slashing indictment of the New Deal, basked in praise of a United Mine Workers' spokesman today but appeared unsatisfactory to the AFL and presumably to the CIO which is pro-Roosevelt.

K. C. Adams, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal and personal emissary of John L. Lewis before the labor subcommittee, called the plank "eminently satisfactory."

AFL President William Green, who presented his organization's proposals to the same subcommittee a few days ago, found the plank "disappointing" and said the GOP "has missed a great opportunity."

The plank accused the New Deal of "perversion" of the Wagner act to destroy collective bargaining, seeking to build up a totalitarian labor front and "political trickery." The Labor Department has disintegrated as a result, the plank said.

There was praise for all workers for a "magnificent productive" effort but the language did not include the term "organized labor." It pledged fair administration of laws designed for labor's welfare and a secretary of labor who is "representative of labor."

Predict Good Sport For Bass Fishermen

Harrisburg, June 28 (AP)—Plenty of fish and probably good stream conditions will greet Pennsylvania anglers when bass season opens July 1, Fish Commissioner Charles A. French predicts.

Some 600,000 new bass were stocked in state streams during the year in addition to those left there by a decrease in fishing last year due to war conditions, French said.

Fishing regulations for inland waters from July 1 to Nov. 30:

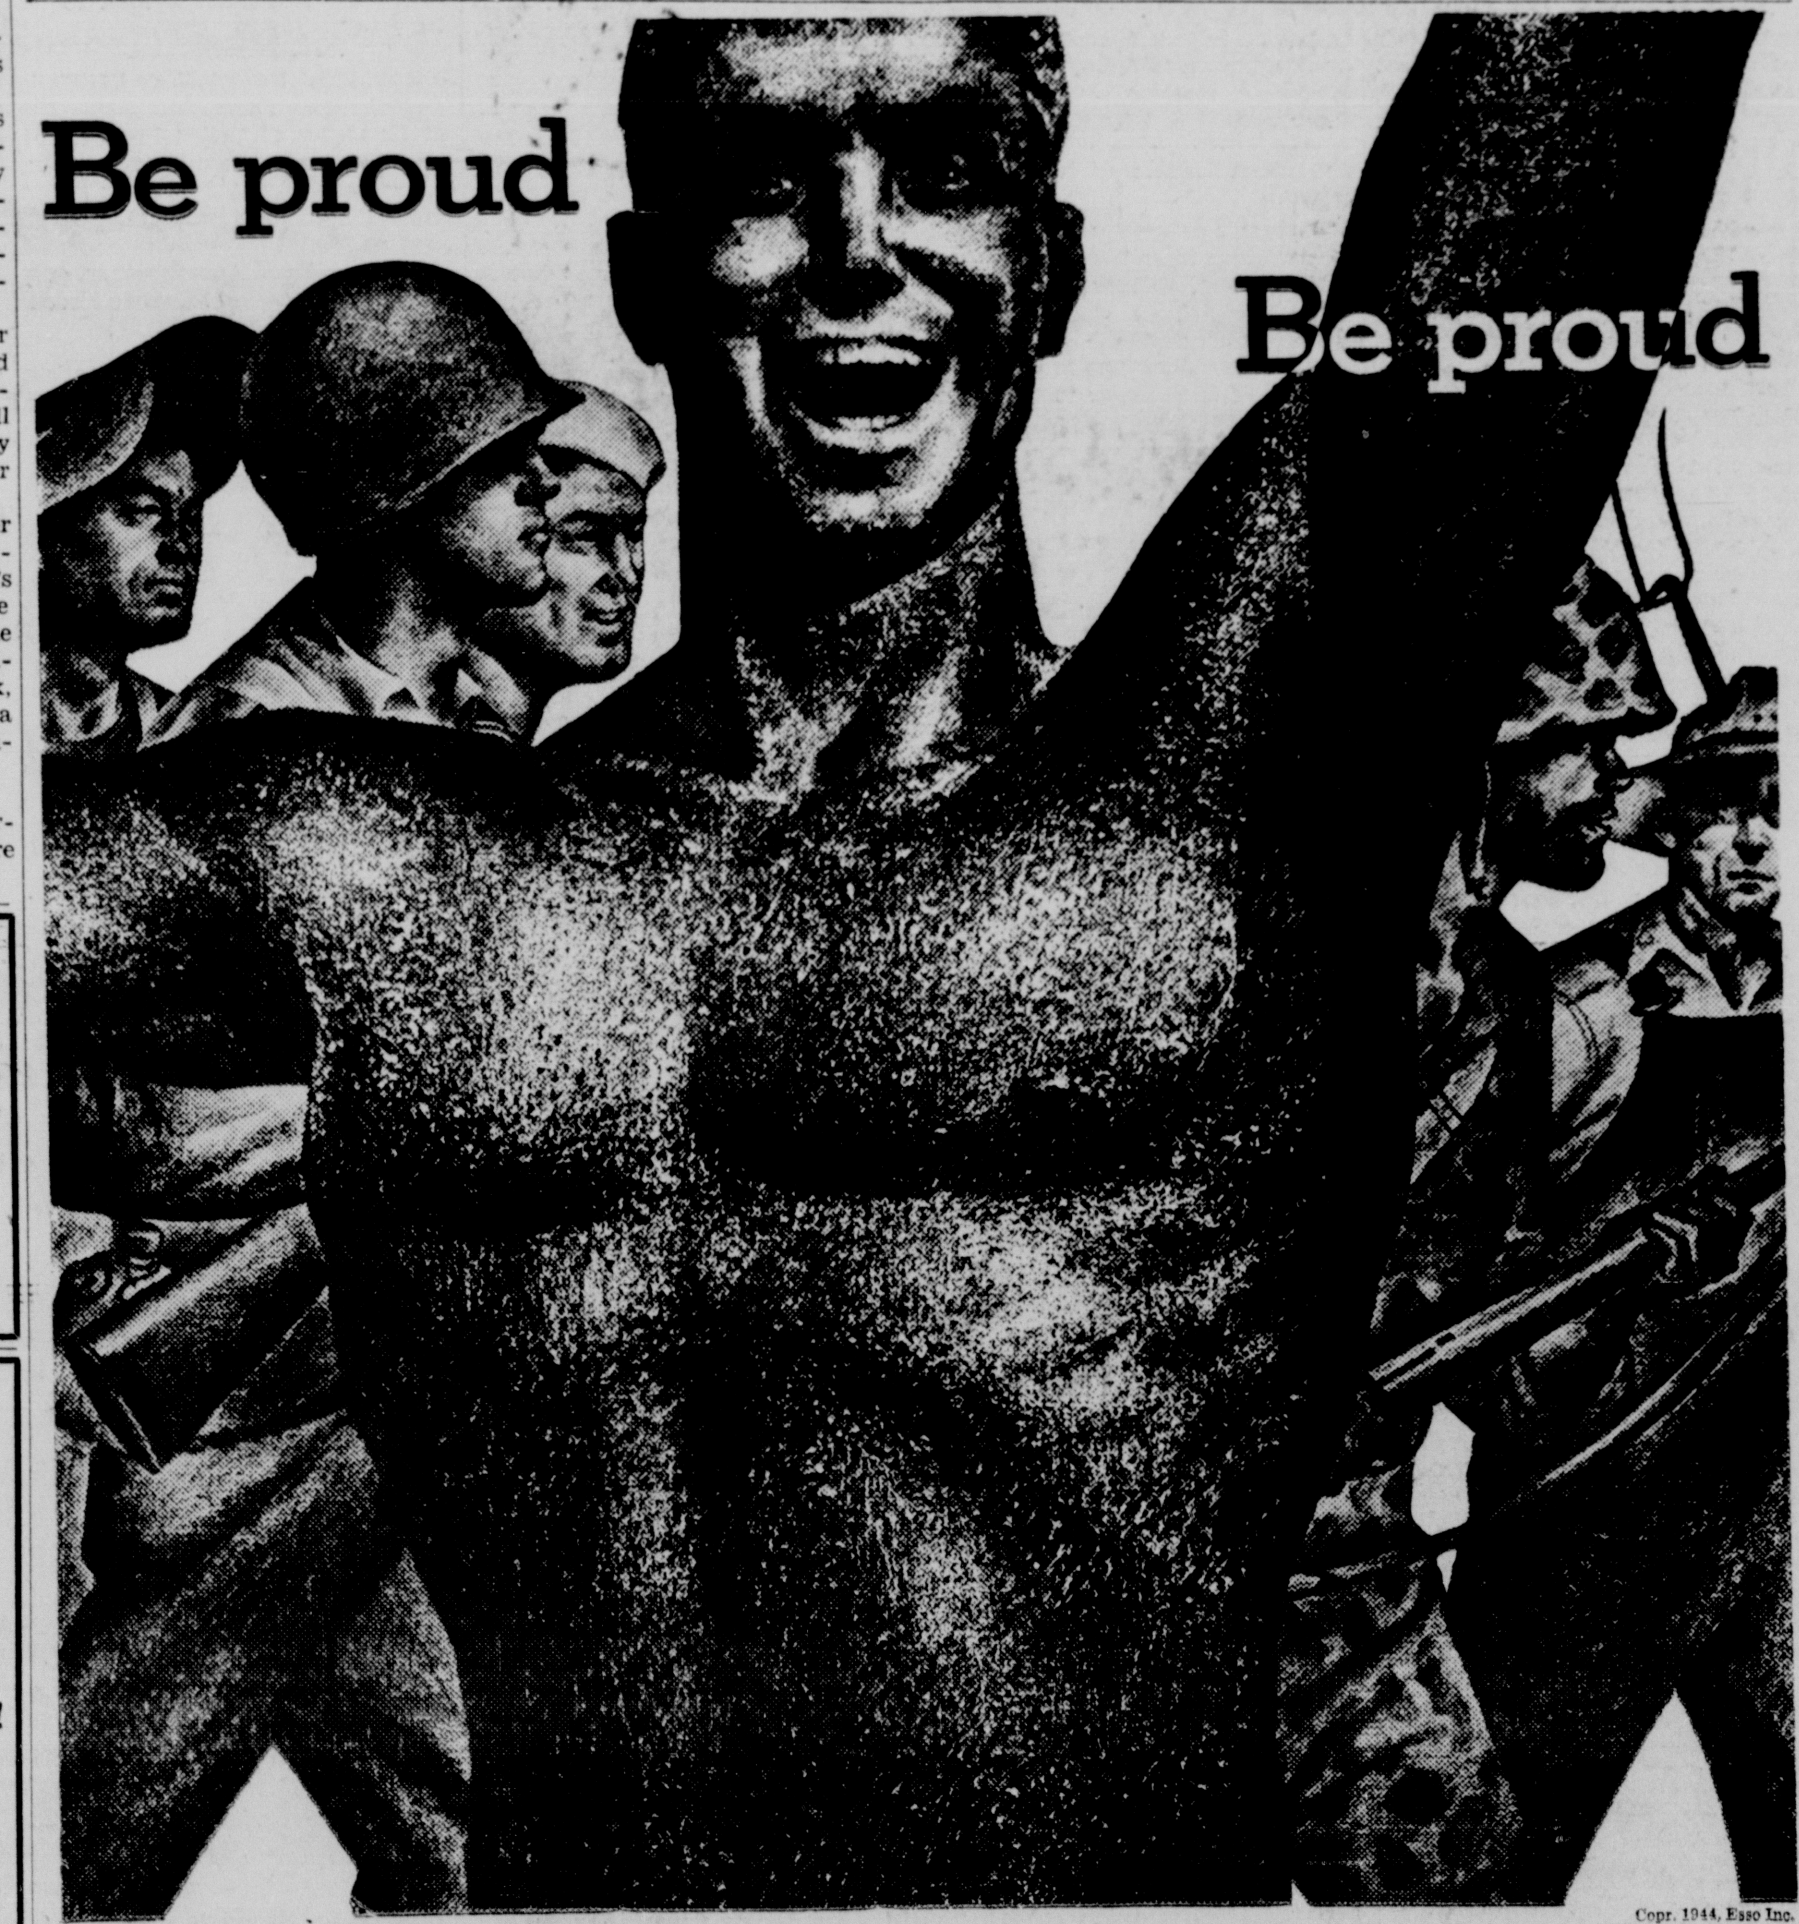

Bass—small and large mouth, not less than nine inches, daily limit six.

Pike perch or wall-eyed pike, not less than 12 inches, daily limit six.

Pickereel—not less than 12 inches, daily limit six.

Muskellunge—not less than 22 inches, daily limit two.

DEWEY PLACED IN NOMINATION BY NEBRASKAN

By CHARLES H. PALMER

Albany, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—His acceptance speech in his pocket, Governor Thomas E. Dewey prepared to leave today for the Republican national convention in Chicago as soon as he has been chosen the party's standard bearer in the 1944 presidential election.

A 23-passenger plane was at the Albany airport ready to take Dewey, four members of his official family, and a corps of newspapermen to the convention city once formally of selecting the New York governor had been completed.

Word of yesterday that Dewey was drafting his acceptance speech was the first open sign by the Governor he would accept the nomination if offered.

"No Comment"

In Chicago Dewey was slated for speedy conferences on his preference for the vice presidency. In Albany he maintained his "no comment" attitude on this subject as he did yesterday on the foreign policy plank in the party's platform.

Dewey's previous declaration that he was "wholly and exclusively" concerned with his duties as governor of New York led Capitol observers to predict he would not resign his office once nominated for the presidency.

They cited precedents set by Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, both of whom continued as governor during their Democratic campaigns, and Alf M. Landon, who held office as chief executive of Kansas while running against Roosevelt in 1936.

GOP DELEGATES HEAR MRS. LUCE

By EDITH GAYLORD

Chicago, June 28 (AP)—Clare Boothe Luce, first woman invited to address a Republican national convention in half a century, wants Americans to "think as Americans" and send to the White House a man who—as she put it—loves his country more than he loves power.

Dressed with schoolgirl simplicity in dark blue with white gumpie, blonde braids framing her face, the slim politico-playwright orally dramatized last night the service "beyond price" of GI Joe's and the deaths of "GI Jim."

Assailing what she termed Roosevelt administration promises "kept to their ears but broken to their hearts," the freshman congresswoman from Connecticut declared Republicans must choose a president who would justify "GI Jim's death" and prove it not useless.

"Jim has taken the rap for everyone, from the man in the White House down to the man in the little house around the corner," she said. "And it was OK with him . . . if it gave good old Joe a fresh start on life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in a world wiped clean of Nazi marauders and Japanese spoilers."

Democrats will be meeting here soon, she said, "not to choose a president but to take Franklin Roosevelt and like it."

Bow Your Heads

THIS is Invasion! Now in the hearts, brains and muscles of our American Youth lies the future of our country.

Bow your heads. Pray with millions of mothers the country over, as their hearts reach out over the seas, each one seeking out her boy, to protect him with the shield of her love. Believe that in this world there is definite strength in decency and honor. Believe that in our devotion there is moral force. Believe that our will to victory will aid that victory. Seek and ye shall find!

Let us seek added strength and fortitude for our men in our own sacrifice and devotion.

Let us focus every thought, every action, and every prayer on the boys fighting for us.

And, while each one bends to his task with ever-growing fervor and energy, let us adopt a common symbol as our faith in Victory.

Let that Symbol be War Bonds. Let us pour our money in a gigantic flood of goodwill toward our sons and brothers, as a spiritual shield for them.

This is the Invasion. The lives of our boys are at stake. Let them see that the Soul of America is with them.

THREE - PRONG RUSSIAN DRIVE CLOSES MINSK

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, June 28 (AP)—Supported by one of the greatest air attacks ever hurled against the Germans, on the Russian front, the Red Army closed in from three directions today on Minsk, the capital of White Russia.

Dispatches from the front said probably never before had Stormoviks (dive-bombers) been thrown with such strength and effectiveness against Nazi armored forces. Hour after hour they were reported searching out German tanks, plastering them in mass with their flying artillery and blasting the way for four armies converging in a great semicircle on the gateway city to Warsaw and Germany.

Coordinated Effort

The northernmost of the three spearheads aimed at Minsk was composed of Gen. Ivan Bagramian's first Baltic army and 38-year-old Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's third White Russian Army. In the van of this group were the Stormoviks, fast Yak fighter planes and medium bombers of Lt. Gen. N. P. Papiyev, Bagramian's 37-year-old air commander, and Col. Gen. Timofey Kruksin, Cherniakhovsky's youthful aviation chief.

Two of the most astute students of aviation in the Red air force, these young officers were reported throwing clouds of divebombers and medium bombers against the German groundtroops and fortifications, blasting bridges and strafing communications lines over a wide area.

Cherniakhovsky, who is himself the youngest Army general in Russia, turned westward toward Minsk after capturing Orsha and drove steadily forward. Two big obstacles were in his path—the Berezina river and the city of Borisov.

Huge Air Force

Field Dispatches said Cherniakhovsky's advance units were less than fifty miles from Minsk and about 26 miles east of Borisov. Other units under his command were reported moving rapidly through sparsely settled lake country to the forest area further north, where they were threatening to outflank Borisov from the northwest in conjunction with Bagramian's troops.

The third thrust to Minsk came from Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's third White Russian Army, driving up from the southeast over the Minsk-Gomel highway and railway.

A tremendous aviation force was likewise in the battle along this front.

Rokossovsky's army has pushed ahead toward Minsk, its advancing units about 75 miles away, while other units mopped up and surrounded a group of five German divisions just southeast of Bobruisk, which is tottering, with Russians already in its streets.

Ask Check On Food In Storm Section

Harrisburg, June 28 (AP)—The state department of agriculture today directed field inspectors to maintain a close watch on all perishable foods in western Pennsylvania, areas swept by last week-end's storm.

"Today a report from McKeesport," said a department statement, "revealed that more than 1,000 pounds of meat were found spoiled as a result of storm damage to one butcher shop. All of it was condemned, as was 350 pounds at Port View, Allegheny county."

"At Greentown, Allegheny county, $3,000 worth of meat from a store in which the proprietor and his wife were killed, was found strewn over streets and backyards for several blocks."

"The cause for spoilage of foods was due largely to failure of refrigeration when electric power was cut off."

DI MAGGIO DEFERRED

Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were assured of the services of another ball player today with the announcement that outfielder Vince DiMaggio had been granted a 90-day deferment by his draft board. The board said x-rays showed DiMaggio had definite symptoms of gastric ulcers.

Dear Jim:

Sorry this letter is late, but I'm up to my ears in the 5th War Loan Drive.

As head of the town's committee, I'm busy almost every waking moment selling bonds. This is, by all odds, the most critical period of the war. Everything is at stake—everything. (As if I needed to tell you that.) Our quota calls for two billion dollars more in this town than the last—everyone's got to buy two or three times more than he's ever bought before—if things are to go as we solemnly pray they should.

Thank God most of the people I talk to seem to realize the critical need. They do without things they actually need in order to plunk down another hundred or two. I guess they feel as I do. With a man you love over there, the least you can do is your utmost.

I want you to know, Jim, that the folks here at home are with you—and their money is fighting with you—very last dollar they can scrape up. Mother and I send love.

Dad.

155 ARE DEAD IN TORNADO; RUSH RELIEF

Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—Relief and rehabilitation of homeless tornado victims in three states continued today while the death toll of last Friday's destructive "twisters" rose to 155.

Another death at Waynesburg, Pa., increased the Pennsylvania fatality list to 43. The West Virginia toll jumped to 109 with a death at Shinnston. Three were dead in Garrett county, Md.

Included in the West Virginia total were four victims whose bodies were dragged from the West Fork river between Shinnston and Fairmont yesterday. State Guardsmen and volunteers continued to search the stream for other missing.

New Relief Offices

In Washington, Pa., Herbert Carman, Red Cross disaster relief representative, announced permanent relief headquarters would be set up in Clarksburg, W. Va., tomorrow to consolidate rehabilitation work for seven Pennsylvania counties and eight West Virginia counties.

Temporary relief offices at Washington, Pa., Shinnston and Elkins, W. Va., will be closed, Carman said, adding that the Clarksburg office was set up on a permanent basis because "the job will take quite a long time."

Carman also announced that the Red Cross had completed its rehabilitation job in Garrett county, Md., where eight families were affected. One of the tasks, he said, was finding a foster home for four children orphaned by the tornado.

Jerry Wakefield and Joseph Carter of the Red Cross disaster service continued their tour of the affected localities today, making a survey to determine what assistance is needed to rehabilitate the homeless.

To Rebuild Homes

Wakefield said he had already secured the release of priority building materials to aid some families in rebuilding their homes. He asked that families needing assistance in securing priority releases register with the Red Cross even though they may not require financial aid.

All army troops assigned to patrol the tornado area have been withdrawn. Col. Lucius McK. Crumrine, executive officer of the third service command announced. State, county and municipal police and civilian defense volunteers remained on the job.

Field Dispatches said Cherniakhovsky's advance units were less than fifty miles from Minsk and about 26 miles east of Borisov. Other units under his command were reported moving rapidly through sparsely settled lake country to the forest area further north, where they were threatening to outflank Borisov from the northwest in conjunction with Bagramian's troops.

The third thrust to Minsk came from Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's third White Russian Army, driving up from the southeast over the Minsk-Gomel highway and railway. A tremendous aviation force was likewise in the battle along this front.

Rokossovsky's army has pushed ahead toward Minsk, its advancing units about 75 miles away, while other units mopped up and surrounded a group of five German divisions just southeast of Bobruisk, which is tottering, with Russians already in its streets.

Three Injured In Hotel Fire Today

Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—Three persons were injured and 23 were routed from their beds when a two-alarm fire damaged the Tavern hotel in downtown Pittsburgh today. Jacob C. Baker, 56, of Kittanning, and M. A. Shapiro, 58, were treated for burns, and William Brandon, 52, suffered a head injury.

Firemen carried Jacob Grabowski down a ladder when he was trapped on the fifth floor.

EXTRA PAINT IN EVERY CAN

Lowe Brothers DERBY RED BARN PAINT

$1.80 PER GALLON

For low cost protection, use LOWE BROTHERS DERBY RED BARN PAINT—and get extra paint in every can. It's so thick that Derby Red requires the addition of a half gallon of linseed oil to each gallon of paint for the finishing coat. And remember, DERBY RED BARN PAINT compares favorably with many higher-priced paints. Use it for barns, silos, fences and metal roofs—it prevents decay and rust.

Ask Check On Food In Storm Section

Harrisburg, June 28 (AP)—The state department of agriculture today directed field inspectors to maintain a close watch on all perishable foods in western Pennsylvania areas swept by last week-end's storm.

"Today a report from McKeesport," said a department statement, "revealed that more than 1,000 pounds of meat were found spoiled as a result of storm damage to one butcher shop. All of it was condemned, as was 350 pounds at Port View, Allegheny county."

"At Greenock, Allegheny county, $3,000 worth of meat from a store in which the proprietor and his wife were killed, was found strewn over streets and backyards for several blocks."

"The cause for spoilage of foods was due largely to failure of refrigeration when electric power was cut off."

DI MAGGIO DEFERRED

Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were assured of the services of another ball player today with the announcement that outfielder Vince DiMaggio had been granted a 90-day deferment by his draft board. The board said x-rays showed DiMaggio had definite symptoms of gastric ulcers.

WAITING!

155 ARE DEAD IN TORNADO; RUSH RELIEF

Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—Relief and rehabilitation of homeless tornado victims in three states continued today while the death toll of last Friday's destructive "twisters" rose to 155.

Another death at Waynesburg, Pa., increased the Pennsylvania fatality list to 43. The West Virginia toll jumped to 109 with a death at Shinnston. Three were dead in Garrett county, Md.

Included in the West Virginia total were four victims whose bodies were dragged from the West Fork river between Shinnston and Fairmont yesterday. State Guardsmen and volunteers continued to search the stream for other missing.

New Relief Offices
In Washington, Pa., Herbert Carmen, Red Cross disaster relief representative, announced permanent relief headquarters would be set up in Clarksburg, W. Va., tomorrow to consolidate rehabilitation work for seven Pennsylvania counties and eight West Virginia counties.

Temporary relief offices at Washington, Pa., Shinnston and Elkins, W. Va., will be closed, Carmen said, adding that the Clarksburg office was set up on a permanent basis because "the job will take quite a long time."

Carmen also announced that the Red Cross had completed its rehabilitation job in Garrett county, Md., where eight families were affected. One of the tasks, he said, was finding a foster home for four children orphaned by the tornado.

Jerry Wakefield and Joseph Carter of the Red Cross disaster service continued their tour of the affected localities today, making a survey to determine what assistance is needed to rehabilitate the homeless.

To Rebuild Homes

Wakefield said he had already secured the release of priority building materials to aid some families in rebuilding their homes. He asked that families needing assistance in

Military Ballot Canvass Extended

Harrisburg, June 28 (AP)—Pennsylvania's military ballot canvass, originally set to end today, has been extended by the State Defense Council to July 6 because of the necessity for much recanvassing, Defense Director Dr. Ralph Hutchison announced.

Civilian defense volunteers in 67 counties collected the names and addresses of 251,118 Pennsylvanians in the armed forces and allied agencies up to last night.

Washington county, first to report the canvass completed, enrolled 13,255 names or 6.3 per cent of its population, the council added.

DIES IN CRASH

Butler, Pa., June 28 (AP)—William Mackrell, 27, was killed and his companion, Norbert Baumgart, 30, injured seriously yesterday in a collision between their automobile and a truck-trailer on Route 68, seven miles east of here.

securing priority releases register with the Red Cross even though they may not require financial aid.

All army troops assigned to patrol the tornado area have been withdrawn. Col. Lucius McK. Crumrine, executive officer of the third service command announced. State, county and municipal police and civilian defense volunteers remained on the job.

Cherbourg Loot

May Be 40,000

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 28 (AP)—The Allied supreme command estimated today that the total prisoners taken on the Cherbourg peninsula would be between 30,000 and 40,000.

It was announced that Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey is in command of the British Second army in France. Dempsey commanded the famous 13th corps in the Eighth army during the African and Sicilian and part of the Italian campaigns.

American troops have overcome the last resistance at Maupeaufort airfield east of Cherbourg and continue mopping up operations.

Fighting is in progress at the foot of Cap De La Hague in the Beaumont area where the Germans are making their last stand.

The British advance continued in the Esquay sector four to five miles southwest of Caen. Among villages liberated after the mop-up of German pockets of resistance was Onchy, one and a half miles southeast of Fontenay.

MEET IN ENGLAND Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Flickinger have received word their son, Pfc. Charles Flickinger, and Pvt. Albert Caskey, have met somewhere in England. The soldiers have been close friends for many years.

CLAIM GERMANS FACING ACUTE OIL SHORTAGE

By GLADWIN HILL

London, June 28 (AP)—Capitalizing on lessons learned in Tunisia, when the Nazi war machine collapsed in a welter of stalled trucks and grounded planes due to an oil shortage, the Allies are making an all-out effort to speed Germany's final surrender by again draining away her military lifeblood.

Allied air chiefs directing this campaign say there already is an "acute shortage" of oil in Germany, but beyond this they will not go in assessing the situation.

Britain's Ministry of Economic Warfare, however, has estimated German oil production has been cut to one-third of maximum and the Nazi army is getting less than half the oil it requires for normal operations—let alone the present tremendous defensive effort it is facing on all fronts.

Blast Oil Sources Since that information became available the Allied air forces have dealt some of their heaviest blows against enemy oil production.

On June 20 American daylight bombers hit 12 German oil plants in a raid which the U. S. Army air forces describe as one of the two heaviest blows they have leveled against the German war effort to date.

Last Friday and Saturday Mediterranean-based bombers attacked the Ploesti oil fields in Romania and on Sunday joined with British-based heavyweights in raids on German oil installations in southern France.

On Monday a refinery at Vienna was bombed and last night the air ministry announced a night attack upon the synthetic oil plant at Gelsenkirchen cut at least another 1,000 tons of oil per day from German supplies—"at least temporarily."

That figure is about one-fourth of the normal German supply, and on the basis of the latest estimates about one-tenth of the actual present supply.

Germany's normal oil supply (now reduced by two-thirds) is estimated at about 15,000,000 tons annually—one-third from Romania (principally the great Ploesti fields which have been the target of repeated attacks during the past year); one-third from small German, Austrian, Hungarian, Polish and Estonian plants, and one-third from synthetic fields in Germany. The Gelsenkirchen plant alone is reported to have produced nearly one-tenth the normal synthetic supply.

Damage to installations is constantly being repaired, however, and there always is the impracticable question of the reserves that Germany has been able to store up to meet the situation now developing.

YOUNGSTER DIES IN FALL Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—Frightened at the approach of a street car while he was crossing a trestle bridge with two brothers, John Schick, 4, plunged 20 feet to his death when he stepped between the ties yesterday, the coroner reported.

Flashes Of Life

SALESMAN Hershey, Pa. (AP)—The Candy booth in Hershey park was untended and customers were waiting, so an elderly man took over and sold four nickel bars before the clerk returned.

It was then that the customers learned they'd been waited on by the 86-year-old millionaire founder of the park, Chocolate Magnate Milton S. Hershey.

HER HERO NOW New Rochelle, N. Y. (AP)—A member of the Coast Guard, cited recently for a rescue at sea, dropped into the Standard-Star office and was given a few copies of the edition that carried his picture.

"Get, I'll have to send these clippings to my girl friend," he said, grinning. "She thinks I'm a dope."

SNAPPY DRAW Middletown, Conn. (AP)—A fierce battle between two huge snapping turtles in a pond near here caused a traffic jam on an adjacent highway. Police had to be summoned to unsmother it. Deprived of their audience, the turtles broke off their battle and disappeared.

Chapter 23
Spring stared into Drusilla's flashlight held in Moura's steady hand, remembering those hands going unerringly up and down the long rows of candle molds that afternoon. She shivered.

"Then Dirk should be back any minute," Moura figured the time on her wristwatch swiftly. She started up the ladder to the trap door.

It was then that Spring saw the pinpoint of light down the tunnel—"What's that?"

Moura saw, and dashed out their light. "Don't move," she whispered fiercely. "Don't make a sound! I'll be back! If you have to stall for time!"

She was gone, leaving Spring more bewildered than before. The prick of light grew to a yellow eye, in another minute it would find them huddled there at the foot of the ladder, shut off from the shop above, trapped by this new stalking, shapeless form coming down the length of the tunnel directly toward them.

"I know you're there," the voice said. "I saw you."

Spring pressed both hands hard against her mouth to keep from crying out. This was it. This was the climax of the horror of Candlewood. She knew now, too late, just as all the others had, who the killer was.

The light fell across her. Spring tried to cover her aunt. With the light full upon her, face to face with the truth at last—there was no mistaking the purpose in the figure before her—Spring felt a strange numbness creeping through her. She thought of Elvan on the bridge in the rain, of Jo beside her piano in the back parlor, and of Great Aunt Adelaide with the book she had been reading fallen beside her hurricane lamp. And then Spring felt herself falling, and she had time only to be grateful that the light was no longer shining, and that she could not see those eyes.

But suddenly it was Dirk's voice, rough and commanding behind her, dominating everything else: "Drop it! I've got a gun!"

The tunnel was ablaze from the lantern he flashed. A gun was in his hand. He kept it pointed at the man who had reached Spring's side, kept it pointed while Moura bound him with astonishing competence, and then Dirk hoisted the figure up the floor-opening like a bag of flour.

Then he helped Drusilla and Spring through.

When the storeroom flooring was under their feet Moura shut the trap door and sighed gratefully. She looked at Dirk. "Thank God," she said earnestly, "you came in time."

But Spring could only stare, with revulsion, at the bound figure on the floor.

"Gill!" she exclaimed. The explanation was as incredible as the past week had been terrifying. The story came out gradually when they gathered in the candle-shop workroom afterward and Moura paused, her black eyes shadowed with emotion.

"Then," she resumed, "Josh disappeared. Elvan and I both suspected the worst when Theron appeared and took Josh's place. But somehow, Gill must have discovered Elvan's purpose, without becoming aware of my own connection. Then came the explosion that blinded

Drusilla began the story. But it was Drusilla Manning, free of the strange cloak that had wrapped around her these past months—not Mrs. Gilbert Hayden, the odd, vague little shadow of a person who roamed Candlewood by night. She sat on a candle packing case, with a polo coat Moura had found in the storeroom wrapped around her. She spoke carefully.

"A year ago, a little while after Spring went west, I discovered what Gilbert really was." She shuddered a little and glanced, as though to reassure herself, at the storeroom door behind which lay the bound and helpless figure. "He was a Nazi agent. He had married me simply to get access to Candlewood and the shop. Somehow, he was sending secret information to German agents in England, and he used the candle business as a protection. When I became suspicious, I talked to Josh about it."

There was a little silence before Drusilla could go on. Moura looked at Dirk and Spring. "I told her the truth about Josh tonight," she said, her mouth a hard young line.

Drusilla went on, sadly. "Josh watched Gil, too well. He told me he had found him at night in the shop, working mysteriously. And yet neither he nor I could find a trace of Gil leaving or returning to the house, when all the doors were locked. I tried to question Gil. He said I was crazy. After that, Gil threatened me. Then I wrote to Elvan. But he was at sea and I didn't hear from him."

Moura took up the story. "Elvan contacted the Navy Intelligence in Washington, D. C., and I was sent to Ten Mile, ostensibly to find work there, and of course, I managed to get employment in the shop here at Candlewood."

"You are a government agent," Spring cried.

Moura nodded. "After I came here I realized that Gil was making Mrs. Hayden out 'peculiar' and I didn't dare risk letting her know who or what I was for fear Gil would find out."

"I did what I could to trap Gil, but there wasn't any tangible proof. I could find nothing in the candle business to indicate espionage. I notified Elvan. We took Josh into our confidence, since he also had access to the shop. Navy Intelligence sent Elvan back here to work on the case with me, since he knew the background and the whole setup so thoroughly. Elvan, to all appearances, was on an extended furlough and working on an experiment for Uncle Sam, which he really was."

Moura paused, her black eyes shadowed with emotion.

"Then," she resumed, "Josh disappeared. Elvan and I both suspected the worst when Theron appeared and took Josh's place. But somehow, Gill must have discovered Elvan's purpose, without becoming aware of my own connection. Then came the explosion that blinded

CLAIM GERMANS FACING ACUTE OIL SHORTAGE

By GLADWIN HILL

London, June 28 (AP)—Capitalizing on lessons learned in Tunisia, when the Nazi war machine collapsed in a welter of stalled trucks and grounded planes due to an oil shortage, the Allies are making an all-out effort to speed Germany's final surrender by again draining away her military lifeblood.

Allied air chiefs directing this campaign say there already is an "acute shortage" of oil in Germany, but beyond this they will not go in assessing the situation.

Britain's Ministry of Economic Warfare, however, has estimated German oil production has been cut to one-third of maximum and the Nazi army is getting less than half the oil it requires for normal operations—let alone the present tremendous defensive effort it is facing on all fronts.

Blast Oil Sources
Since that information became available the Allied air forces have dealt some of their heaviest blows against enemy oil production.

On June 20 American daylight bombers hit 12 German oil plants in a raid which the U. S. Army air forces describe as one of the heaviest blows they have leveled against the German war effort to date.

Last Friday and Saturday Mediterranean-based bombers attacked the Ploesti oil fields in Romania and on Sunday joined with Britain-based heavyweights in raids on German oil installations in southern France.

On Monday a refinery at Vienna was bombed and last night the air ministry announced a night attack upon the synthetic oil plant at Gelsenkirchen cut at least another 1,000 tons of oil per day from German supplies—"at least temporarily."

That figure is about one-fourth of the normal German supply, and on the basis of the latest estimates about one-tenth of the actual present supply.

Germany's normal oil supply (now reduced by two-thirds) is estimated at about 15,000,000 tons annually—one-third from Romania (principally the great Ploesti fields which have been the target of repeated attacks during the past year); one-third from small German, Austrian, Hungarian, Polish and Estonian plants, and one-third from synthetic fields in Germany. The Gelsenkirchen plant alone is reported to have produced nearly one-tenth of the normal synthetic supply.

Damage to installations is constantly being repaired, however, and there always is the imponderable question of the reserves that Germany has been able to store up to meet the situation now developing.

YOUNGSTER DIES IN FALL
Pittsburgh, June 28 (AP)—Frightened at the approach of a street car while he was crossing a trestle bridge with two brothers, John Schilling, 4, plunged 20 feet to his death when he stepped between the ties yesterday, the coroner reported.

HER HERO NOW
New Rochelle, N. Y. (AP)—A member of the Coast Guard, cited recently for a rescue at sea, dropped into the Standard-Star office and was given a few copies of the edition that carried his picture.

"Gee, I'll have to send these clippings to my girl friend," he said, grinning. "She thinks I'm a dope."

SNAPPY DRAW
Middleton, Conn. (AP)—A fierce battle between two huge snapping turtles in a pond near here caused a traffic jam on an adjacent highway. Police had to be summoned to unshrink it. Deprived of their audience, the turtles broke off their battle and disappeared.

Cherbourg Loot
May Be 40,000
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 28 (AP)—The Allied supreme command estimated today that the total prisoners taken on the Cherbourg peninsula would be between 30,000 and 40,000.

It was announced that Lt.-Gen. Miles C. Dempsey is in command of the British Second army in France. Dempsey commanded the famous 13th corps in the Eighth army during the African and Sicilian and part of the Italian campaigns.

American troops have overcome the last resistance at Mairpurt airfield east of Cherbourg and continue mopping up operations.

Fighting is in progress at the foot of Cap De La Hague in the Beaumont area where the Germans are making their last stand.

The British advance continued in the Esquay sector four to five miles southwest of Caen. Among villages liberated after the mop-up of German pockets of resistance was Onchy, one and a half miles southeast of Fontenay.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, June 28 (AP)—The climax of the Republican national convention, expected tonight in the balloting for candidates, will find the networks carrying the roll call of states in their entirety. Broadcast time has been set for 10 o'clock, but will be changed if the proceedings get under way at an earlier hour.

While no definite time has been announced for Thursday, day or night, the networks have arranged their schedules for last-minute inserts at any time. Thus, for the next hours, all regular programs have been put on a "flash" basis for cancellation at a moment's notice.

RECEIPTS FROM BASEBALL TILTS TODAY FOR WAR

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball goes after its third $500,000 war relief goal tonight.

Across the board in all four western parks of the National league, receipts go directly into war funds. Eastern parks of the National will do as much on July 26 and the American league will stage its eight-game program on scattered dates beginning July 7.

Baseball has raised an estimated $2,300,000 for the war effort including relief games by each club in the majors in 1942 and 1943, two all-star tilts and portions of two world series games.

St. Louis has a double feature in the play-off of the "suspended" game of May 16 in addition to the regular tilt with the Phillies. Freddy Fitzsimmons' club held a 9-4 lead in the seventh inning when the contest was called to allow the Phils to catch a train.

Saves Lanier
Max Lanier's win streak was unbroken and the "suspension" of play for a month enabled the Redbird ace to make it six in a row before losing although he had been belted off the hill and apparently beaten by the Phils. Fred Schmidt and Charley Schanz, who were pitching when the game was called, will go back to work tonight along with the same lineups.

Cincinnati has a twilight-night doubleheader with the Boston Braves as its war relief attraction. Chicago has a day double with Brooklyn and Pittsburgh a single night game with the New York Giants.

The New York Yankees entertain the league-leading St. Louis Browns in an important series with Don Savage out of action due to an injury but Ticker Stainback reporting as available for outfield duty after a month's absence. Second place Chicago opens against the Boston Red Sox in another first division series. Cleveland is at Philadelphia and Detroit at Washington for a night game.

BILLPORTS WIN DOUBLEHEADER

(By The Associated Press)

The Williamsport Grays, also known as the Rhumba Rascals because of their preponderance of Latin-American talent, have a firmer hold on third place in the Eastern league today by virtue of a double win over fourth-place Wilkes-Barre.

Williamsport came through with 8-7 and 5-2 victories over the Barons last night as Hartford increased its first-place lead to three full games by blanking Utica, 6-0. Albany defeated Binghamton, 9-4 after losing the opener of a doubleheader, 5-2. Elmira shut out Scranton, 1-0, then lost 9-7 in another twin bill.

Danny Day, Cuban shortstop, featured the Williamsport batting by getting four for four in the opening game and three for five in the nightcap. He was credited with an unassisted double play in the first tilt.

Hal Schacher, routed in his last two starts, scattered nine hits effectively to give Hartford its fourth straight win over Utica.

Southpaw Charles Misto held Albany to five hits in winning the opener for Binghamton. The Senators were out-hit in the nightcap, but capitalized on the wildness of Carl Drews to give Fred Clemence his sixth win of the season.

Elmira defeated Scranton although out-hit 6-3. Dinges connected for a pair of triples to pace the Red Sox to victory in the nightcap.

Young Texan Gains Tennis Semi-Finals

Haverford, Pa., June 28 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old, 5 feet 7 Bernard (Tut) Bartzon, who practices tennis shots with a stone wall for his "opponent," was a stone wall himself today, and other entrants in the National Interscholastic Tennis tournament were running headlong into him.

The 132-pound southpaw from San Angelo, Texas, was in the semi-finals on the strength of his blistering 8-6, 6-2 upset of the defending champion, top-seeded Charles Oliver of Perth Amboy, New Jersey.

Bartzon, who meets Glenn Bassett of Santa Monica, California, tomorrow, came from behind to take the first set, but the second was all his on a display of low controlled fire from the baseline.

Ed Ray of Sinton, Texas, and McDonald Mathey, Deerfield academy, meet in the other semi-final contest.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Rocky Graziano, 150½ New York, knocked out Frankie Terry, 152, New York, 6.

Brooklyn—Norman Green, 149½, Brooklyn, knocked out Phil Engenga, 146½, Baltimore, 1. Joe Mulli, 155, Brooklyn, outpointed Willie Grey, 154, Detroit.

Hartford, Conn.—Joe Sulick, 145, New York, outpointed Johnny Jones, 150, Pittsburgh, 10.

New Bedford, Mass.—Pat Demers, 132, Brockton, Massachusetts, outpointed Jimmy McLarin, 135, New Bedford, 10.

Wilmington Gains 2nd Place By Win

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington's Blue Rocks posted an emphatic notice today that they are back in the Interstate league pennant race.

They hopped on first place Hagerstown for a 6 to 0 whitewashing last night behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Carter, nicking Red Dwyer for two runs in the second and fourth and collecting the other two from Bob Alexander in the eighth. The win moved Wilmington into second place.

George Davis took the night's honors at Allentown. In a four-for-four performance that led to York's 7 to 5 victory over the Red Birds, Davis homered in the first with two on base and again in the sixth with nobody aboard. Pitcher Froggy Brunswick also hit a homer for the White Roses, breaking a 3-3 tie in the third.

Lancaster dropped an exhibition game 11 to 5 with Woody Wheaton, manager of its 1943 pennant-winning team, pitching eight-hit ball for the Philadelphia Athletics. Five pitchers appeared for the Red Roses. Bobby Estalella homered for the A's.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, June 28 (AP)—Ned Irish, boss of Madison Square garden, already has so many basketball teams lined up for next winter that he can't find room for all of them.

Ned says he could use three more dates but the only way he can get them in would be to run court shows on successive nights—which wouldn't be good box office.

Manager George Parnass reports that NBA lightweight champion Juan Zurita, who shot himself out of a couple of good shots in the east, will be ready to begin training in another month and will start east about the end of August.

Dickie Jones, the Henry Aldrich of the radio, has ambitions to become a pole vaulter and makes Dutch Warmerdan his idol.

WATCHFUL WAITING

When Allen Dillon, former Drake U. athlete, first went to Alaska, his big ambition was to kill a bear.

But he learned that a non-resident hunting license cost $100 while it cost only two bucks for a resident to hunt.

So Allen patiently waited until a year had passed and he qualified as a resident, then he plunked down two bucks and on his first trip bagged a 300 pound Bruin.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Al Akins, U. of Washington center fielder, hit 656 on 46 trips to the plate during the past season, which apparently qualifies him for the intercollegiate championship unless somebody comes up with a better record.

Tab 14-year-old Jo Ann McGowan, daughter of the old-time speed skater and hockey player, Everett, as a real comer in the ice show business.

Dwight Pfirman, old Cy's son, has been dropped from the southern association umpires' roster and returned to the Pony league.

The recent Red Cross open golf tourney at Wykagyl returned something over $42,000.

Johnny Wyrostek of Columbus, current American association hitting leaders, not only was last in batting among National leaguers who played more than 50 games last season but he was at the bottom of the fielding list for outfielders, second basemen and third basemen.

RETORT DISCOURTEOUS

When a bunch of coaches at the recent southeastern conference meeting were discussing whether a renewal of Alabama-Auburn football relations would lead to "bad blood" among the players, Florida's Tom Lieb cut in: "What would Melinkovich from Chicago have against Auburn?"

SERVICE DEPT.

Lou Klein, ex-Cardinal second sacker who recently joined the St. Augustine, Fla. Coast Guard ball team is playing shortstop and the story there is that he couldn't beat out Joe Muffoletto, an ex-sandlotter, for the job at second.

Bill Smith, the Hawaiian swimming champ, has been graduated from the Navy physical instructors' school at Bainbridge, Md., with a rating of specialist (Athletics) second class, which is probably the first time Bill has been rated second class since he began competition.

Haegg, Andersson Will Meet Today

Stockholm, June 28 (AP)—Sweden's most famous track runners—Gunder Haegg and Arne Andersson—are pitted against each other today for the first time in two years. They are to meet in the 1,500 meters for which Andersson holds the world record of 3:45 compared to Haegg's best time of 3:45.8.

It will be Haegg's second race of the season. He set a world record of 8:46.4 for the two-mile in his first outing at Oestersund on Sunday. Andersson also holds the world mark of 4:02.6 for the mile compared to Haegg's best time for the distance of 4:04.6.

Napoleon was only 53 when he died.

PACIFIC COAST LAUNCHES NEW FOOTBALL LOOP

Hollywood, June 28 (AP)—The Pacific coast, which sought but never obtained a franchise in the National football league, finally has found its way into the big leagues—by organizing its own.

The new setup, to be known as the American professional football league, will face a lot of problems next fall—manpower, transportation, etc.—but no professional football loop on the west coast, and there have been a number of them, has been so thoroughly planned or so financially strong as this one.

It's a brainchild of William (Big Bill) Prelove, aviation industrialist of Los Angeles, who is such a football nut he climbed into a grid suit a couple of years back and filled a tackle position to help out in a game.

Prelove traveled up and down the coast interviewing prospective club owners, and came up with financially sound backers to take over franchises in Seattle, Portland, Oakland, San Francisco, Hollywood, San Diego and two in Los Angeles.

Best known of these franchise holders are George Zaharias, the ex-wrestler, who hung on to his money as tightly as he did to some of his opponents, and his wife, Mrs. Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias, star of half a dozen or more sports. They'll run the San Diego team.

Owners tossed $5,000 on the conference table for each of the eight clubs, so the league starts off with practically a $40,000 bank account. Uniforms already have been bought and paid for by each club, and a constitution patterned after the National football league has been adopted.

Lockport Takes Two Tilts From Batavia

Buffalo, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—Eleven Lockport runs in the first inning of the second game with Batavia started them on a 20-6 victory last night. Scores in three of six other Pony league games also climbed into double figures.

In the seven-inning opener Lockport handed the Clippers a 3-2 setback.

The Erie sailors took both ends of a twin bill from Jamestown, 7-3 and 15-4. The second game was played under protest of Falcon Manager Ollie Carnegie.

Wellsville scored two double-figure victories over Hornell, 15-3 and 10-2.

The cellar-dwelling Bradford Blue Wings squeezed a 9-8 decision from Olean in another free-hitting contest.
